Big Welcome To Pakistan Chief

OTTAWA (BUP)—A grey sky and light rainfall greeted Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan on his arrival here at 11:05 a.m. today for a three-day official visit.

The Pakistan leader's plane made a perfect three-point landing at Rockcliffe Airport outside Ottawa after a flight from Boston.

Reds Building Powerful Air Arm For China

HONGKONG (AP)—Mounting from South China indicated today that an up-to-date force of perhaps 400 planes, including possibly 75 jet aircraft, is being added to the Communist war machine.

The planes have been spotted all the way from Shanghai to Hainan, Island off South China. Estimates of Communist air strength vary even among foreigners whose job it is to know what goes on behind the bamboo curtain. Their guesses place the Chinese Red air strength at 200 to 400 planes, of which 25 to 75 are jets.

The newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Po in a Canton dispatch quoted a "Communist source" as saying that Liu San-pin, chief of staff of the Chinese Red air force, and a party of Soviet advisers had set up headquarters at Amoy. Their purpose, the Hongkong newspaper said, is to supervise the air reconstruction program in South China.

Russia Offers Deal In Grain For W. Europe

GENEVA, Switzerland (UP)—Russia has notified the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe that it is willing to negotiate on the sale of grain to western Europe.

Gunnar Myrdal, E.C.E. executive secretary, announced the Russian move at a press conference. He said he regarded it as the first step toward breaking a deadlock in east-west trade.

The Soviet decision followed a visit by Myrdal to Moscow and capitals of western Europe in an effort to break the trade deadlock before the opening of the E.C.E.'s fifth meeting here tomorrow.

Myrdal said the E.C.E. is the only U.N. organization "fully functioning" now.

REDS IN JAPAN ATTACK YANKS IN BRIEF RIOT

First Public Battle Of U.S. Occupation; Cominform Feared

TOKYO (AP)—Communist-led Japanese today attacked four United States soldiers in the first public fight of the Allied occupation.

The battle touched off other skirmishes as American military police cracked down on instigators. At least eight Japanese were arrested.

Demonstrators, gathered in Imperial Plaza for a Communist labor rally, showered the American military observers with rocks. One soldier was knocked down.

One American was Capt. C. V. Clark of the Tokyo Provost Marshal's office.

One witness said the incident began when members of a Communist youth group snatched a notebook from a Japanese plainclothesman who was taking notes on speeches.

The anti-U.S. demonstration appears to be the first fruit of criticism of Japan's Communists by the Cominform, international communism's central agency. The Cominform has attacked Japanese Reds for trying to work within the framework of the occupation.

The Cominform demanded a stiffer stand against the occupation and "ideological imperialism."

Tight Secrecy On Grilling Of Dr. Fuchs

LONDON (AP)—British and U.S. intelligence chiefs today clamped a tight curtain of secrecy over their investigation of the activities here and in the United States of the convicted atom spy, Dr. Klaus Fuchs.

They continued through the Whitsun holiday their questioning of Fuchs about his connection with other agents through whom he allegedly funnelled atom secrets to Russia. But all inquiries about their work was answered by "no comment."

None would say whether they had again questioned Dr. Fuchs in an old Wormwood Scrubs Prison, where he is serving a 14-year prison sentence.

Official sources said secrecy was essential to the success of efforts both here and in the United States to uncover other associates of the German-born scientist who turned spy.

Early Voting On Beer Here Reported Light

Victorians were going to the polls today to say whether they want beer parlors in the city. Polling stations—100 of them—opened at 8 this morning. There was no early rush to vote. A number of polling stations reported voting "very slow" during the morning hours.

Most people intending to vote are expected to call at the polling stations on the way home from work this evening or after supper. Polling booths will stay open until 8.

Citizens wishing transportation to their polling station were being offered free rides by both the "wets" and the "drys." Being a bright day and with most people having only a few blocks to go, a majority of those voting during the morning walked.

Returns in the beer plebiscite will be broadcast over radio station CKDA as they are tabulated in the returning officer's headquarters tonight. The Victoria Times is co-operating in the broadcast.

Des McDermott of the radio station staff and Dave Stock of the Victoria Times will report the returns as they are filed.

Bandit Robs Auto Court Head Here At Gun Point

An armed unmasked bandit got $34 in cash in a hold-up in the city at 10:25 Monday night.

Victim of the robbery was James A. McIntyre, manager of the Windsor Auto Court, 660 Gorge Road.

Mr. McIntyre was behind the switchboard in the office of the auto court when the thug, about 30 years old, opened the door.

Waving a gun at the manager, the bandit snarled: "This is a hold-up!" Mr. McIntyre thought it was a joke, and laughed.

"I'm not fooling, mister I mean it." The thug moved forward, revolver in hand.

He walked quickly behind the counter and rifled the cash drawer, keeping the gun pointing at the manager.

"After that he did not run out of the office, but went out slowly with the warning: "Don't make a move," Mr. McIntyre recounted.

The bandit then ran through the fields toward Washington Avenue and Mr. McIntyre rushed to the telephone.

He called police, who rushed to the scene. Search of the area brought no results.

SHORT STATURED

The hold-up victim said the robber was short-statured, about five feet, six inches.

Mr. McIntyre said he thought at first the gun in the bandit's hand might be a toy.

"But I concentrated on that and came to the conclusion it was the real thing. The gun was small and the man was wearing gloves," Mr. McIntyre said.

SUNBATHERS MAD AT DOUKS

'Legit' Strippers Complain Of Wide-Eyed Horror At Fanatics

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian sunbathers think they are getting a raw deal from stripping Doukhobors.

A meeting of members of the Canadian Sunbathing Association here declared today that "nudists (with clothes on) are hot under the collar about publicity given recent Doukhobor strip-tease acts."

One middle-sunfan said: "I'd like to skin them. After all the good work we've done convincing people that nudists are really sane and decent everyday folk, these fanatics have got half the world laughing at us."

Hundreds of Sons of Freedom, Doukhobors, have been arrested in the Kootenay area for publicly disrobing as a protest "against a third world war."

Waving a U.S. picture magazine, an insurance salesman pointed to a rear view of a Doukhobor peeling off.

"Look at this guy. Long flannels—drop seat with a reet pleat. No real nudist would wear that amount of clothes. We know a body is healthier in lighter garments."

The sunbathers passed a stuffy-worded resolution which urged newspapers, law enforcement officers and public officials to watch their choice of words.

Scores Flee Homes; Flames Scattered Far

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Fire raged out of control in an oil storage depot here today and scores of persons fled their homes as heavy, black smoke darkened the sky.

Exploding 40-gallon drums of gasoline hurtled through the air at the Imperial Oil Company's property on the western outskirts of this northern Ontario city. Containers of naphtha burst into flames.

Police said they feared the main storage tanks might explode and shower flaming fuel over the adjoining section of the community.

The explosions that rocked the area could be heard for miles. One resident said: "It sounds just like the 24th of May and there are great clouds of heavy black smoke settling over the city."

The house nearest to the storage depot was less than 50 yards from the fire. The Imperial Oil office and two more adjacent oil company properties, Shell and McColl-Frontenac, also were threatened.

ALONG RAILWAY

Minutes after the fire had broken out, it had spread to a brush fire and was burning along a railway right-of-way.

Virtually every piece of fire-fighting equipment in this area was pressed into service. Firemen soaked adjacent properties to keep them from catching fire. Provincial and city police set up roadblocks to bar spectators from coming within half a mile of the blaze.

When firefighters turned hoses on the burning tanks, the heat was so intense that the water just turned to steam.

One nearby plant contained large tanks of liquified cooking gas.

All buildings at the Imperial Oil plant appeared to be aflame. Tongues of fire licked hundreds of feet into the air. The flames blocked passage of a freight train. It had to stand on the tracks about a mile from the centre of North Bay.

Vow To Stalin Ends Rally Of E. German Reds

BERLIN (UP)—A five-day rally of 500,000 Communist youths ended today with a pledge to Premier Josef Stalin that they would do everything they could to defeat the "criminal activities of the Anglo-American warmongers."

Wearily after their mass parades and other strenuous activities, the Communists capped the whole show with a message to Stalin. It said:

"More than 500,000 young German peace fighters who are ready to work for and defend freedom pledge you to mobilize all their forces for the banning of the atom bomb, to spare no pains and efforts to bring to naught the criminal activities of the Anglo-American warmongers."

"The youths will never again allow the German people and its youth to wage war against the Soviet Union, the people's democracies and progress."

NORMAL DUTIES

With the youths going home, British military police who had been on a round-the-clock alert since Friday returned to normal duty.

West Berlin's 12,000 German policemen will stay on the alert until this evening. An American spokesman said U.S. troops here would remain alerted for the time being.

Sunshine Aids Drying Out In Flooded Areas

WINNIPEG (CP)—Brilliant sunshine today licked up by last traces of two fierce showers that spilled almost a half-inch into the Red River valley watershed. The flooded river's drop was apparently unaffected.

At 7 a.m. the level stood at 25.9 feet—the lowest mark since May 6. Still almost eight feet above first-flood stage and almost two feet above the flood level of 1948, the river was down 4.4 feet from its crest May 19.

A few scattered showers were forecast for today, but the weatherman said the fast-drying ground now is capable of soaking up a lot of moisture.

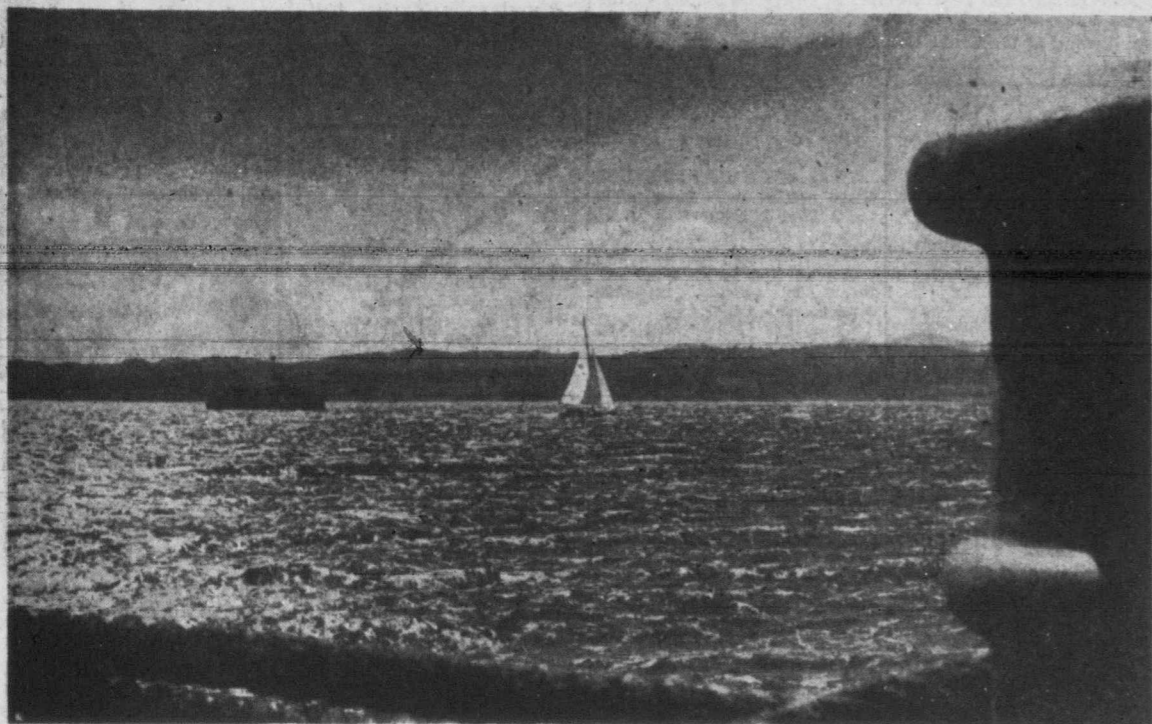

Meanwhile the return of evacuees who fled the worst flood in a century continued unabated. A newspaper survey indicated some 2,000 persons had returned to assist in clean-up work. Many other thousands, the vanguard of 100,000 who left at the urging of flood-control headquarters, came back to their high-and-dry dwellings.

Seven Provinces Protest Boost In Rail Rates

OTTAWA (CP)—Seven provincial governments today appealed to the cabinet against the latest freight-rate increase, and asked that it be stayed from coming into operation.

The railways are aiming at June 16 as the effective date of the 3.4 per cent increase. It was awarded last Thursday by the Board of Transport Commissioners, which ordered the railways to give 15 days' notice before putting it into effect. The companies hope to file the new rates tomorrow.

The appeal by the governments—all except Ontario, Quebec and Newfoundland—includes the previous two increases, which total 16 per cent and which already are in effect.

The appeal against the 16 per cent has been in the hands of the cabinet since March 17. Today, the provinces simply amended that appeal to cover Thursday's increase and to ask that the new boost not be allowed to go into effect.

Pakistan Chief Gets Greeting At Ottawa

The welcoming party also included Mohammed Ali, Pakistan High Commissioner to Canada.

Extraordinary precautions were taken by Canadian authorities to assure the safety of Liaquat. His limousine was preceded by three R.C.M.P. officers on motorcycles. Two carloads of uniformed and plain clothed R.C.M.P. officers followed closely behind the limousine.

VETERANS' ALLOWANCES THIS YEAR $22,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will spend almost $22,000,000 this year on war veterans' allowances for some 26,000 veterans, the joint parliamentary committee on old-age security was told today.

The relation of the war veterans' allowance to universal pensions was outlined to the committee in a brief prepared by the War Veterans' Allowance Board. It was presented by Leslie A. Mutch (L.-Winnipeg South), parliamentary assistant to veterans' minister Gregg, and F. G. Garneau, board chairman. The brief said that throughout its history "the allowance has been a liberalized and accelerated old-age pension and the basic consideration has been that the individual is awarded war veterans' allowance at an earlier age than he could secure old-age pension."

FOREST FIRES IN EAST OUT OF HAND

1,000 Men Fight Outbreaks In Nova Scotia;
Quebec Official Says Rain Only Hope Now

By CANADIAN PRESS

Nearly 1,000 men battled forest fires in Nova Scotia today, and in Quebec, where most of several forest blazes are under control, officials stressed the need of rain to protect woodlands from further fire ravage.

Toughest blaze in eastern Canada appeared to be that which raged out of control in Halifax county of Nova Scotia and threatened the villages of Dean and Pleasant Valley. There were no casualties but several farm buildings and logging camps were reduced to ashes.

Said District Forester R. H. Burgess of Halifax county: "It is absolutely impossible for us to put it out. Rain is the only thing."

Woods travel was banned in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and some sections of Quebec.

In Ontario, 23 forest fires still being fought are under control.

The general fire picture improved sufficiently for the lands department to lift its ban on travel in Algonquin Park.

In Alberta two small fires near Grande Prairie, about 200 air miles northwest of Edmonton, were being fought by 20 men.

In Manitoba the provincial forester's office reported cloudy skies and light rainfall have "materially improved" the forest fire hazard in the Porcupine Forest Reserve of northwestern Manitoba. All fires were brought under control Monday night, and no new outbreaks of importance had been reported.

POLICE COMB CITY

Suspects In Line-Up While Robber Hunted

City detectives today were combing Victoria for the armed and masked bandit who got $34 in cash in a hold-up in the city at 10:25 last night.

Suspects were being put through the line-up routine after close questioning as to their movements during the evening by Detectives Fearon Woodburn and Angus Munro.

Robbery victim was James A. McIntyre manager of the Windsor Auto Court and Motel, 660 Gorge Road East.

Mr. McIntyre was behind the switchboard in the office of the auto court when the thug, about 30 years old, opened the door. Waving a gun at the manager, the bandit snarled:

"This is a hold-up!"

Mr. McIntyre thought it was a joke, and laughed.

"I'm not fooling, mister. I mean it." The thug moved forward, brandishing the gun to dispel any doubts as to his intentions.

RIFLED DRAWER
He walked quickly behind the counter and rifled the cash drawer, keeping the gun pointing at the manager.

U.S. Will Not Veto Chinese Reds in U.N.

WASHINGTON (CP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson is reported to have assured Trygve Lie the United States will not use the veto to keep Communist China out of the United Nations.

This restatement of American policy appeared today to have been the principal firm development in the meetings held by Lie, U.N. secretary-general, with President Truman and Acheson.

Diplomats familiar with the substance of Monday's "confidential chats" indicated they produced little in the way of definite understandings promising to ease cold war tensions. Lie, however, was left with a free hand to continue his efforts to find a way out of the U.N. deadlock.

The impression among diplomatic authorities following the meetings is that Lie, on his recent mission to Moscow and other capitals, was given no commitments by Prime Minister Stalin. On his return to Lake Success, N.Y., last week the Secretary-General expressed guarded optimism and told reporters he found the Soviet leaders still have faith in the U.N.

Rain Fouls Up Speed Classic Parsons Wins

INDIANAPOLIS (BUP)—Johnny Parsons, 1949 National Driving Champion but only a sophomore at the Indianapolis Speedway's annual 500-mile race classic, won the 34th annual race today at record breaking speeds in an event called after 138 laps because of rain.

It was a brilliant triumph for the 31-year-old California midget driver. He outdistanced triple winner Mauri Rose, last year's champion, Bill Holland and every other driver in the fastest starting field in the history of the event to crack records most of the way.

Rose, who won in 1948 and 1949, and who was a co-winner in 1941, led for the first nine laps, but then Parsons, a 150-pound dare-devil, took over first place and left it up to the field to overtake him.

Rose made one attempt, in the 20th lap, and he couldn't hold the lead for more than one lap before Parsons went in front again.

Then it was Parsons all the way until he stopped after 105 laps. That gave Rose first place but he had to come in for fuel to give Holland the lead. By that time Parsons was back on the track and passed Holland and nobody came close after that.

Tony Bettenhausen driving relief for Jole Chitwood was second, Bill Holland third, Cecil Green fourth, and Rose fifth.

BRITAIN WILL BUY QUANTITY OF WHEAT HERE

Dominion To Remain
Chief Supply Source,
Howe Tells House

OTTAWA (BUP)—Trade Minister C. D. Howe told Commons today that the United Kingdom would buy between 100,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the coming crop season.

Howe said the wheat would be sold under price terms fixed by the international wheat agreement. The U.K., however, agreed to pay no more to any other dollar country for wheat than she did to Canada.

He mentioned no specific price. Howe read the text of a formal joint statement by the Canadian and British governments, drafted as a result of his negotiations last week in London. It said: "The United Kingdom government has made it clear that out of its total wheat import requirements in 1950-51, it expects to buy a large proportion in Canada which, quite apart from the special contractual arrangements for the past four years, is, and it is hoped will remain, the traditional source of supply for the United Kingdom."

"The Canadian government, for its part, is satisfied that Canadian wheat growers will continue to find in the United Kingdom a market for a very substantial part of their exportable wheat."

Howe said both governments agreed that the international wheat agreement was sufficient to replace need for any further Anglo-Canadian wheat agreements. A four-year-old agreement now in effect was to expire at the end of July, the end of the 1949-50 crop year.

The trade minister told the Commons that the U.K. had agreed to take 300,000 tons of Canadian flour. It would be traded "at competitive North American prices," he said.

Lumber Firms Urged To Take Board's Award

VANCOUVER (CP)—Recommendation was made today that coastal lumber operators accept the award of a conciliation board, rejected by the policy committee of the woodworkers' union.

This was urged by Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing 165 operators in their contract dispute with 32,000 loggers, members of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

"Many of our companies are most reluctant to accept any form of union shop such as the award recommends," said R. V. Stuart, Forest Industrial Relations spokesman. "But, inasmuch as the award is unanimous... we feel, in the interest of good management relations, that we should urge our clients to accept it."

Meanwhile, I.W.A. officials announced the award has been unanimously rejected by the Victoria local of the union.

The local is the fifth of eight in the coastal district to reject the award at meetings before taking a secret ballot. Recommended in the award is a wage increase of nine cents an hour.

Transport Board Ruling Affects 28,648 In City

An interim rate boost amounting to about 93 per cent of increases proposed by B.C. Telephone Company and announced today by Board of Transport Commissioners at Ottawa, will affect 28,648 telephone subscribers in Victoria.

A Victoria subscriber who now pays $2.20 for two-party residence service will in future pay $2.80, instead of $3 as asked in the company's application. First bills showing new rates will be mailed to subscribers during June.

Possibility that rates might go higher was seen in some civic circles owing to the fact the order was an interim rather than final one.

Victoria presented a brief and had Prof. G. R. Elliott speak to it before a hearing of the Board of Transport Commissioners here last January.

"Very good arguments were presented but we apparently were not as successful as we had hoped," said Ald. Harold M. Dargon, chairman of this year's public utilities committee. The application by the company asked for rates estimated to increase the company's exchange revenues by $2,261,741 or 24.12 per cent. The rates approved will bring an increase of $1,632,455 or 17.49 per cent. Long distance rates are not involved.

Most of the rates approved are seven per cent less than those sought in the application to the board. The requested rates cut by the board were those for exchange rentals (main telephones), private branch exchange trunks and semi-public pay telephones.

The requested rates cut by the board were those for exchange rentals (main telephones), private branch exchange trunks and semi-public pay telephones.

Cut Out Overdue Charge

Under the new tariff, the $1 charge on overdue accounts will be eliminated and the surcharge on monophones and desk telephones will be abolished. The new rate schedule is based on a grouping plan, according to number of telephones served by each exchange, with a schedule of rates for each group.

Charges for inter-exchange calls in the Greater Vancouver and Greater Victoria areas are increased from four to five cents for a five-minute period.

Following are some of the basic rates:
Victoria: Business-individual, $7.00; measured service for 100 outgoing calls, $4.40; multi-party, $4.90; extensions, $1.50; residence-individual, $3.50; two-party, $2.80; multi-party, $2.55; extensions, $1.00.

Colquitz: Business-individual, $4.20; multi-party, $3.00; extensions, $1.25; residence-individual, $2.50; two-party, $2.05; multi-party, $1.95; extensions, 75c.

Albion, Belmont and Keating: Business-individual, $3.95; multi-party, $2.80; extensions, $1.25; residence-individual, $2.40; two-party, $1.95; multi-party, $1.85; extensions, 75c.

Sooke: Business-individual, $3.70; multi-party, $2.55; extensions, $1.25; residence-individual, $2.35; two-party, $1.85; multi-party, $1.75; extensions, 75c.

The board's decision follows hearings held in Vancouver and Victoria in January. The company's application for new rates was based on the claim that increased costs had rendered existing rates inadequate. The company had not had a general increase in rates since 1921.

Commenting on the board's order, Gordon Farrell, president of the B.C. Telephone Company, said: "Much of the increased revenue which we will obtain under the order will be absorbed by the rise in costs since we applied to the board last June. Costs are still rising. Until the board issues its written judgment, we have no further comment to make."

Truman Asking Huge Sum For Europe's Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman is expected to ask Congress this week for about $1,225,000,000 to finance United States arm shipments to 14 countries.

The State Department and budget bureau have recommended that amount as necessary to bolster American policy in the cold war. The money would be for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

President Truman is scheduled to submit the request to Congress Thursday.

The sum is slightly less than the $1,238,600,000 appropriated by Congress last year for arms shipments to 13 friendly powers.

About $1,000,000,000 would go for American military supplies to nine Atlantic Pact countries—Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark and Portugal. The remainder would be earmarked for arms aid to Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

New Brunswick Joins Road Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—New Brunswick today became the seventh province to sign the Dominion-provincial Trans-Canada Highway agreement.

Signing of the agreement was announced jointly by Resources Minister Winters for the federal government and Works Minister W. S. Anderson of New Brunswick.

The latest signature leaves only three provinces—Quebec, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland—still outside the agreement. Six provinces signed April 24.

Asks For Freedom

WASHINGTON (UP)—Former Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) has appealed to President Truman to escape paying a $10,000 fine and from serving what remains of his prison sentence. It was disclosed today: He was sentenced Dec. 9, 1949, after he had dropped his fight against charges that he had conspired to defraud the government by padding his congressional payroll and accepting salary "kickbacks" from his employees.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

SELF-STYLED SAVIOURS

I DON'T KNOW what there is about California, but whenever you get anywhere within its radius you become acutely conscious of the extraordinary fascination it has for exhibitionists of all kinds. And they range from those who seek the limelight of the movie world, all through the gamut of the opportunists and optimists who seemingly thrive in its exotic atmosphere.

But it is when you get into the orbit dominated by the cultists, the seers and swamis, the self-styled saviours, that you begin to realize the dimensions to which the evangelistic outburst has grown in the southern state. And, believe it or not, it is a very big and ruthless business down there.

CALIFORNIA BRAND

EVERY NOW AND again, we get one of the California brand of cultists or evangelists up here. But they are usually more moderate in their methods than those who find it pays better to remain in the more fertile atmosphere of the lush south, where slick showmanship is apparently considered as essential to the selling of salvation as it is in the sale of more material commodities.

That was brought home to me during my stay in Santa Barbara by an Oakland court case which received more space in the newspapers than almost any other news—including the various crises facing the United Nations. And the revelations exposed during the course of the trial made me marvel more than ever at the gullibility of people when in the throes of fanatical—if fleeting—religious emotionalism.

PATTEN PATTERN

THE CASE TO WHICH I allude was the trial of C. (for "Cash") Thomas Patten, an evangelist, on nine counts of grand theft, charges arising from "his flair for TALKING fat chunks of money out of the pockets of the Patten parishioners," as one report put it. The hearing was in its 59th day when they put him on the witness stand, and heard from his own lips how large the profits can be in the soul-saving business.

With his 19-year-old wife, Dr. Bebe Patten, he had organized a Nineteen Week Revival Meeting in Oakland, a venture which proved so successful that it firmly implanted the Patten Religious Enterprises in that area. And Patten frankly admitted to the court that the revival meeting was the answer to the Patten prayer—for it marked the turn in their personal fortunes, no matter what it did for the converts!

PERSONAL 'PERKS'

DESPITE THE $1,000 a week rent for the revival arena, plus $1,000 a day for advertising, plus an unspecified amount for radio time and musicians, Patten testified that his wife sets aside one day's takings a week for her personal fiscal welfare, when the congregation is asked for "love offerings." In addition to that, he told the court, he himself gets spending money by appealing for a love offering for his own personal use.

These more mundane considerations are interlarded between such activities as "faith healing, speaking with tongues and baptism by immersion," he proudly boasted. And it evidently pays!

EXTRA HELP

FOR HE TESTIFIED that "Bebe packed 'em in to such an extent that they had to hire another evangelist to look after the overflow at a nearby hall." And the outsider netted himself between $750 and $1,000 a week at this sideshow. As to Patten's own little "love offering," which he launched each week, they ran to carrying amounts, he told the court, hitting a jackpot of $1,000 or more. Usually, ushers would troop up to the platform with the returns, but sometimes he gathered in the sheaves himself. "Once," he said, "someone handed me an envelope with ten $100 bills in it."

What the outcome of the trial will be, I don't know. But the accused's own evidence certainly suggests that even if the way of the transgressor is hard, evangelists of the Patten pattern, at least, seem to have found an easy way to extract an easy living from some gullible transgressors.

Engineer To Get Old Mine Job, Also Back Pay

CANTON, Ill. (AP)—Lloyd H. Siderer claims he's won his fight with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and will get back his old Buckheart mine job.

And the U.M.W., Siderer said, also has rescinded the $50,000 fine imposed on his because he tried to lead a back-to-work movement during the recent soft-coal strike in the United States.

Siderer took the fight for his job to Washington.

A $21.05 a day shovel engineer, Siderer said the mine superintendent had told him the union and the coal firm would share the cost of paying him for time lost. Siderer won't work unless he is reinstated as local union president.

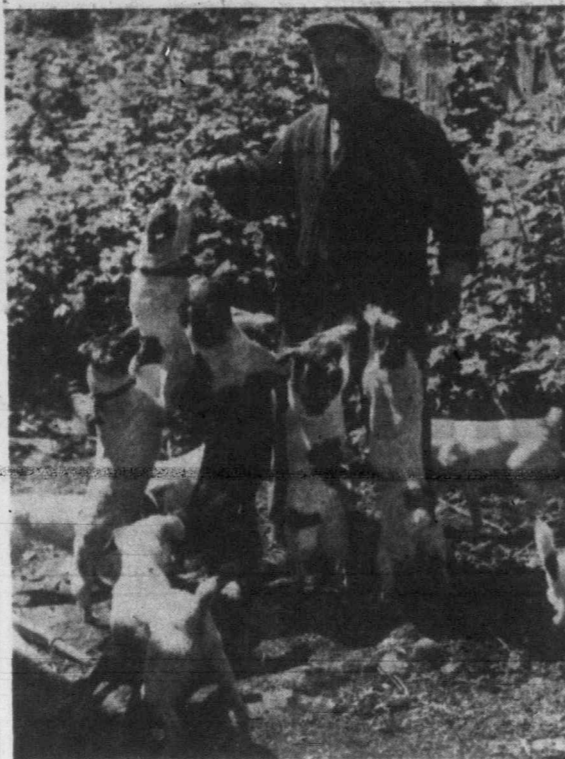

Union Members Stop Work In Protest

Arguments of the International Woodworkers of America for seeking a 17 cents an hour wage increase and union shop security from Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd., were heard Mon-

Burma Rebels Yield

RANGOON (AP)—The Burmese government announced Monday 690 non-Communist rebels have surrendered in two west-coast districts and are turning over large quantities of arms. The announcement came from the central peace council, a body organized to co-ordinate the government's struggle against Burma's many-sided civil war.

Yarrows Gets $289,500 Job For Fire Tug

A Victoria shipyard will build a $289,500 fire tug for Vancouver. City Council of Vancouver decided at a meeting Monday to accept the bid of Yarrows Ltd., lowest of four firms tendering for construction of the 90-foot fire fighter.

Contained in the Yarrows tender was a clause placing delivery date six months ahead, so that the ship should be ready for operation by the end of November.

The vessel will be powered with Kermath gasoline-driven engines, producing a speed of about 17 knots. Installation of an aluminum wheelhouse and an electrically-driven salvage winch are also included in the initial contract figure.

Yarrows' bid was more than $3,000 below that of Burrard Drydock Co., North Vancouver.

Robeson In London

LONDON (BUP)—The Communist Daily Worker said today in a story reporting the arrival here of Paul Robeson that he is "the most famous living American."

More than 1,000 delegates from many parts of Canada are meeting here in the I.O.D.E.'s golden jubilee convention, a five-day affair.

Target of the order since 1946, crime comics now come under the Fulton bill but Mrs. J. D. Detwiler of London, Ont., said that objectionable sex and love magazines can be found in profusion in Canada, replacing banned comic books.

While the Fulton bill was criticized by Mrs. Detwiler for making the retailer responsible to decide whether his books are lawful or not, she said it has put a stop to at least the sale of publications which focused juvenile attention on murder, arson and robbery.

"The fight, however, is by no means over," she added. The order will ask each member to approach her federal government representative to seek support for the proposal.

Saskatchewan was chosen for the 1951 annual meeting of the national chapter of Canada.

Five On Strike Against Themselves

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—There's an unusual twist to the strike at the Empire Brass Company here. At least five of the pickets are striking against themselves.

They're shareholders in the company and are entitled to attend shareholders' meetings and vote on company policy.

They don't own enough shares, however, to force acceptance of demands for higher wages, a pension plan and union shop. That's why they're on the picket line.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Secretary of State department today said that June 5, the day on which the King's birthday is officially observed, will be declared a federal holiday. SUNBATHERS MAD AT DOUKS

'Legit' Strippers Complain Of Wide-Eyed Horror At Fanatics

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian sunbathers think they are getting a raw deal from stripping Doukhobors.

A meeting of members of the Canadian Sunbathing Association here declared Monday "nudists (with clothes on) are hot under the collar about publicity given recent Doukhobor strip-tease acts."

One middle-aged sunfan said: "I'd like to skin them. After all the good work we've done convincing people that nudists are really sane and decent everyday folk, these fanatics have got half the world laughing at us."

Hundreds of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have been arrested in the Kootenay area for publicly disrobing as a protest "against a third world war."

Waving a U.S. picture magazine, an insurance salesman pointed to a rear view of a Doukhobor peeling off.

"Look at this guy. Long flannels—drop seat with a reet pleat. No real nudist would wear that amount of clothes. We know a body is healthier in lighter garments."

The sunbathers passed a stiffly-worded resolution which urged newspapers, law enforcement officers and public officials to watch their choice of words.

"The Criminal Code prohibits nude parading in public," the resolution reads. "It does not prohibit nudism, which is the practice of going without clothes for health, and that only when screened from the general public."

BERLIN (UP)—A five-day rally of 500,000 Communist youths ended today with a pledge to Premier Josef Stalin that they would do everything they could to defeat the "criminal activities of the Anglo-American warmongers."

Wearily after their mass parades and other strenuous activities, the Communists capped the whole show with a message to Stalin. It said:

"More than 500,000 young German peace fighters who are ready to work for and defend freedom pledge you to mobilize all their forces for the banning of the atom bomb, to spare no pains and efforts to bring to naught the criminal activities of the Anglo-American warmongers. The youths will never again allow the German people and its youth to wage war against the Soviet Union, the people's democracies and progress."

Capturing Men's Minds

SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, SPEAKING yesterday at McGill University convocation ceremonies, was breaking new ground when he forecast a lengthy duration for the cold war. The theory that the world is destined to pass through a long period during which it will not enjoy full peace, nor yet be engaged in total war, has been advanced before. The British delegate to the United Nations performed a service, however, in re-emphasizing that thesis in so far as such statements as his will counteract an inclination toward complacency.

That he should foresee an eventual victory for the free nations is based on historical tradition. Countries in which some inhabitants are held down cannot escape the restiveness of the oppressed. Sooner or later the will to freedom will stir them to revolt and, if revolt is strong enough, revolution will ensue.

Coupled with Sir Alexander's analysis of the world condition today was sound advice for victory in the struggle which may continue for generations. That struggle could be won, he argued, by "capturing men's minds." He suggested that the free nations put their houses in order, labor to develop new resources, and see that they were distributed justly. "Then," he said, "it may be that we shall convert others by the teaching of hard facts which cannot ever be suppressed—and that these others may refuse longer to live under the tyranny that now oppresses them."

The distinguished British diplomat has presented the positive answer to Communism. It calls for action to prove to those now under Moscow's domination that democracy is the better way of life for them. To be effective, this method must be meaningful to those who now have little opportunity to understand democracy, or who understand it only as an abstract term. The task may be long and arduous. It will be made more difficult by the resistance of iron curtains raised against the infiltration of western ideas. In the long run, however, it is the most certain way of "capturing men's minds." When it does that, when it shows men who are not free how they may restore their own dignity and their rights as individuals, the compulsions of a police state will lose their power; the cold war will be won without recourse to a shooting war that would involve all nations.

Facing The Sad Truth

THE SKEPTICISM REPORTED IN Washington as a result of Mr. Trygve Lie's declaration that a settlement of the "cold war" may be possible through negotiations between Russia and the West is understandable. It will be shared by most of the people in the democracies, for, despite their hopes for just such a termination of the ideological struggle, they know from disappointing experience over the past few years the agreement with the Soviet Union is not that simple. They know that however high the hopes with which talks might be begun by the western powers, inevitably the Kremlin would interject a demand that could not possibly be met, or else, having apparently reached a satisfactory conclusion, the results of the conference would be nullified by a later Russian repudiation. Such thoughts arise not from sheer pessimism but from the hard, cold facts of past behaviour. It is not sufficient on Russia's part to hurl a charge of "war-mongering" at persons who think along these lines. Moscow would serve the cause of peace much better if it created fewer occasions for these beliefs.

In making his statement, of course, the United Nations Secretary-General used diplomatically conservative language. Referring to his conversation with Premier Stalin a few days ago, he said only that: "I return . . . with the belief that the possibility of constructive negotiation exists." To say less would be to paint a very lugubrious prospect for world peace. But, unfortunately, to say more would involve shutting one's eyes to the factual evidence of Soviet intransigence and the pathetic record of vetoes, repudiations, denials and obduracy that have marked Russian dealings in these postwar years.

Saanich Looks At A Big Idea

WITHOUT MUCH THOUGHT, SEVERAL objections may be foreseen to the Saanich proposal to establish medical insurance for the entire municipality. One of them is the obvious unwillingness on the part of some individuals to participate. The objection might spring from religious grounds, or from the simple fact that some residents feel themselves unable to finance such an undertaking.

On the other hand, the Saanich council's decision to investigate the possibility of the scheme deserves commendation. One of the dangers that threaten almost every working man without such coverage is the inevitability of need for some medical attention and the accompanying costs of treatment. The Medical Services Association scheme is, of course, widely applied in various firms and industries. The method of collecting dues is such that hardship is seldom inflicted on those who pay. At the same time, if no medical attention is required by a contributor, he or she finds that over a period of years a considerable inroad has been made into potential savings.

The entry of a municipality into such a scheme would mark an innovation in municipal social welfare. Work of that type is usually restricted to cases which must be financed by the taxpayers, or to such services as those which properly come from municipal revenue—well baby clinics, for instance.

It may be some time before any definite step is taken to implement the suggestion made at Saanich Council meeting the other night, but the proposal merits investigation of more than local interest. Medical service insurance is being applied in other countries with varying degrees of success.

Bread Upon The Waters

THE PHRASE "BUNDLES FOR BRITAIN" had become so common a part of our language that it is heartening—both for the British people and on our own account—to find the process reversed. The very gratifying response made by the United Kingdom to appeals for help for flood-stricken Manitoba will generate a warm feeling throughout the Dominion. Anxious to show their appreciation for past assistance and their ability to help in an emergency, Britons lost no time in making a large and appropriate gift to the cause. A strato-cruiser has brought the first shipment of sheets, pillowcases and other welcome goods for needy families who had lost everything in the Red River disaster. More will quickly follow—tangible evidence of the fund of well over $300,000 that poured into collecting offices in Britain. English newspaper editorials urged that assistance be provided early and in adequate amounts: "Let us lead, not follow," was the cry, and the reply was emphatic. Thus another tie has been strengthened between Britain and Canada—another bond more closely uniting two peoples who have found that cords of mutual sentiment, ideals and moral standards prove much stronger than could any political links. The bread upon the waters has returned; both giver and receiver have benefited.

Commonwealth Decision On Southeast Asia Paves Way For Further Gains In Cold War

By WILLIAM FITTER, From Sydney

THE RECENT British Commonwealth conference on economic aid to Southeast Asia reached complete agreement much to the surprise of the Australian delegates who had expected a stiff fight over the so-called Sponder Plan. The delegates agreed to recommend to their governments firstly the creation of a technical aid fund, secondly the creation of a capital investment fund and thirdly the appointment of a central bureau of experts at Colombo.

EXPERT ADVICE

Southeast Asian countries which require assistance will be able to call on the technical aid fund to finance visits by experts from the helping countries to report on any specific development projects. The central bureau will consider requests for such visits, decide priorities, and arrange for the appointment of suitable experts. These missions will report back to the bureau which will recommend to the assisting governments whether the project contemplated is economically sound. The Southeast Asian country which suggested the project will then apply to the capital investment fund which will finance approved projects.

These may embrace agricultural schemes, hydro-electric works, the opening up of new mineral deposits, docking facilities, road and rail transport—anything, in fact, which will increase productivity.

It is understood that the technical aid fund will not be limited to financing visits by experts to inspect suggested projects but that the Commonwealth countries will accept students from underdeveloped Southeast Asian countries for free technical and university training.

The leaders of the seven delegations were jubilant when they left the conference. Both Mr. Sponder and Lord Macdonald, leader of the British delegation, said they were "completely satisfied" with the agreement which had been reached unanimously. Neither would reveal the compromise which broke an earlier difference of opinion between Britain and Australia, on procedure, but it is understood that Mr. Sponder withdrew his suggestion that the seven participating countries—Britain, Australia, India, Canada, New Zealand, Pakistan and Ceylon—should put up immediately a technical aid fund totalling $8,000,000 sterling and asked the delegates to agree in principle to such a scheme, leaving

Passion Play

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL, from Oberammergau

OBERRAMERGAU'S world-famous passion play was resumed here on Ascension Day, after a 16-year interval, with full traditional splendor, and with 5,000 spectators crowding the grandiose amphitheatre. Altogether 1,400 villagers including all the native-born adult males and some 500 children, took part in the play either as actors, choir members, musicians, or stage hands, to keep the vows made in the plague year of 1633.

The eight-hour play, first performed in 1634, tells in its present form, in 16 scenic sequences the story of Easter Week from Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem through the stages of His Passion to His Resurrection. Each sequence is preceded by a prologue, a musical choir in a tableau vivant depicting analogous scenes from the Old Testament.

THE PICTURE of the Biblical scenes presented to the spectators' eyes could hardly be more beautiful or more impressive. The scenic arrangements and costumes for which producer Johann Georg Lang has been responsible since the 1934 performance have a perfect balance in composition and color scheme. They are plainly the work of a creative artist, nourished on the great traditions of European religious paintings.

The music, too, makes a powerful contribution to the general impression. Though composed by a local teacher in 1815, its style is that of the 18th century transition from oratory to opera—the period of Gluck, between Handel and Haydn. Gradually watered down by continual minor changes during the past 100 years, it has been completely overhauled and restored for this year's performance by Professor Eugene Pabst with outstanding success.

COMPARED to the strong impact of scenery and music, the text, dating largely from the baroque period with some 19th century re-edition but unchanged since 1860, is rather weak in parts. So, inevitably, is much of the acting, despite some very fine individual performances. The movement of the crowd on the giant stage is superb; their frequent shouting in unison prescribed by the text jars on the spectators.

There is a paradox in all this. The world-wide fame of the Oberammergau Passion Play rests on its unique character as a remnant of popular religious art. Yet today it is the professional artistic element of the whole rather than the popular one which assures its success. That is no accident—the community itself has changed.

OBERRAMERGAU today is not a primitive peasant community completely wrapped up in an unbroken tradition and free from social differences. The main work for the play, taking up a great deal of time, is carried on by a limited circle of families who are sufficiently independent to be able to afford it—chiefly hotel-owners and prosperous wood carvers. "It is inevitable that most of the chief parts are distributed within this circle, that the same family names occur again and again in the cast."

IT IS a far cry from the old, traditional Oberammergau, protected by its mountains from any outside influence. One prominent leader is quoted as saying that 60 per cent of the inhabitants really ought not to take part any more in the play because they are not sufficiently Christian. That may be too strict a standard, but it points to a real problem—the same problem which the Bavarian State Secretary for Art, Dr. Sattler, mentioned when opening here a new museum of religious art on the eve of the new play. The works assembled in that museum, he said, could not be understood as "pure" art any more than the Passion Play itself—they were works of faith. But there were few true believers. Perhaps it was symbolic that these works have been moved from the churches to a museum.

What we have been watching here—as in present-day Germany generally—is not a genuine religious renaissance, rather a restoration brought about by a pious minority. The crucial question for Oberammergau is whether it can survive as more than a museum piece.

An American Brush-Off

As Our Readers See It

REGISTRATION

We will not cast our votes in the beer plebiscite.

We two business women who have been in the city since the fall—are a little bewildered by the circumstances which robbed us of our chance to register our opinions. Several days before the final date for registration of newcomers we were visited by a friendly woman who said she was checking the voters list; when told that we were not on it, but that we planned to register the next day, she told us that it would be unnecessary to go down town, and took our names. She said cards would be forwarded to us which we could fill in and send back through the mail.

This friendly person then enquired which way we intended to vote. After we told her, she did not seem so friendly. She gave us a short lecture on her opinions which appeared to be the opposite of ours; when she had finished my friend said that it was a little cold for that time of year, then the nice lady went away. We never saw her again, nor did we see our registration cards. After waiting several days for our cards to arrive we realized that it was too late to register at all.

We feel that we have profited from our experience. We now know enough to look after ourselves when it comes to things like voting, because some people must be awfully forgetful, especially when their opinions are different from yours. We didn't think that anyone as forgetful as that would be allowed to do work involving the registering of voters.

NATURE'S REWARD

If the act of taking a drink now and then is as heinous as some people make out, why do we not recall our missionaries so they may preach the Gospel of Liberty according to the Liquor Control Board?

We have tried prohibition, and what did it do; it corrupted, among others, the medical profession to the extent that some doctors were running around with their pockets bulging with liquor permits at two dollars a time! Just before Christmas, during prohibition, a mysterious sort of malady seemed to strike the province, and thousands of "sick" people queued up before the liquor stores in order to purchase liquor only authorized by a doctor's prescription.

Every other basement, in those days, was an embryo brewery.

Why do we not rid ourselves of all this sanctimonious humbug and admit that people's morals cannot be regulated by arbitrary legislative acts? Compare the secret drinking orgies that take place in the privacy of hotel rooms here, to the open, civilized and congenial manner provided in such cities as London, Brussels and Paris, etc.

Victoria can well do without the present type of beer parlors which are virtually guzzling dens, where there are no games, music or food—just booze, booze, booze! I spent a few years in France and Belgium, where the liquor question is handled in a civilized manner.

Half of the neurosis today is caused by unnatural inhibitions. Everything in moderation is good for us; but lack of control is objectionable under any circumstances. There would be fewer Alcoholics Anonymous, and less drunkenness, if people could obtain a glass of their favorite beverage in any duly authorized restaurant or hotel lounge—but not in hotel bedrooms!

To really enjoy life it is not necessary to resort to artificial stimulants: Good clean thoughts and exercise are nature's own reward.

CITES EFFECTS

In the course of my experience, I have seen that intoxicating-drink has caused men, usually alert, to become fools; successful men to become paupers; affectionate husbands to become brutes; and homes, where love and peace once reigned, to become a proverbial "hell on earth."

The beer parlor makes the first drink so easy; but this leads to a second, and on to where there is no stopping. My appeal is to the citizens of Victoria on behalf of our young people. My advice is "Make it as easy as possible for the other fellow to do the thing that is right; and make it as hard as possible for him to do the thing that is wrong."

MAKE IT A WEEK?

Another May 24th celebration has just been successfully completed. On May 24th inclusive the Junior Chamber of Commerce staged an equally successful B.C. Products Fair. A period of only three weeks separated these important events. Would not improvement of the former along with a merger of both result in increased support for the two?

The Calgary Stampede might be noted as an instance where one-week-long celebration has benefited the city. In Victoria professional baseball, auto racing, regatta, motorcycle rodeo, fireworks, carnival, circus, May Queen ceremonies, and the giant parade could readily be the groundwork for similar celebrations. Improvements and additions to these features partnered with the Products Fair which could run the week of the 24th would certainly benefit the merchants of the city and the manufacturers of B.C.

The falling of the 24th in mid-week this year apparently curtailed some celebration features. With a week-long celebration the main features could be held at the beginning or end of the week with others spread throughout the week.

A great amount of planning and support would be needed to make a success of such a venture, along with advertising across the continent. A meeting, before vacation time arrives, between all participating organizations and the Junior Chamber of Commerce could lay the needed groundwork for such an event. It would be a great tribute to the city of Victoria.

WATER SUPPLY

I quote from your report concerning Elk Lake water supply in your May 25 issue.

Alderman Diggon: It is a valuable asset and belongs to a Greater Victoria scheme, there is no need to hurry this.

Alderman Skillings: It would be a valuable bargaining point, if and when a metropolitan area came into being.

Alderman Scurrah: We shouldn't use this as a bargaining point. Saanich people require the water, and we have no right to withhold it when we are told by the water board we do not need it.

Thank you, Alderman Scurrah; it is refreshing to hear someone put consideration of the needs of the people above politics.

Here at Ten Mile Point, we have been disgustedly short of water for the past 12 years and more during the summer months.

The views of Alderman Diggon and Alderman Skillings seem to me to be one of the best arguments I have heard against amalgamation. Such "dog-in-the-manger attitude makes co-operation difficult.

Thanks again, Alderman Scurrah.

IT REMAINS to be seen what the result will be of the so-called "save the United Nations" pilgrimage just made by the U.N.'s top officer, Trygve Lie.

He has given no indication of what the top politicians of Britain, the United States, France or the Soviet Union told him. He has said it will be two or three months before results of his conversations can be judged.

This time limit, itself, is an indication of the problems which he must have talked over with the world's top leaders.

Right now the U.N.'s most aggravating problem is the Soviet Union's refusal to take part in U.N. affairs until China is represented by delegates from the Communist regime.

Since January the Russians and their satellites have refused to sit in any meeting of the various branches of the United Nations attended by a representative of the Chinese Nationalist government.

In so doing, they refused to wait, or to abide by, a decision on the Chinese issue through a vote by U.N. member countries.

Because of this Soviet attitude, the U.N. faces another critical problem that could wreck its global character. This may be the reason that Lie decided to take on himself the responsibility of talking to world leaders.

In September the full United Nations will meet for its annual session. If the Chinese Communists are not voted in, and the Nationalist government out, the Soviet bloc conceivably could boycott the full assembly. That would then mean open recognition by the major governments that the chasm between East and West completely separates two worlds. Some experts fear this would bring war that much closer.

On the other hand, if western diplomats agree to seat the Chinese Communists to end the Russian walkout, some western experts contend the Russians will swing the walkout club every time they come up on the short end of a major argument in the U.N., feeling certain that the west will have to mollify them.

In any case, Lie took unprecedented action when he made his recent mission. No officer of the now-defunct League of Nations ever went farther than to try to bring arguments to an end by quiet, unpublished discussions within the League Council.

T. Cadett in the BBC London Letter

Another invention which seems to have practical possibilities is a pair of folding metal struts measuring eight inches in height when extended. These are fixed to the soles of the shoes to give the wearer additional height, and so to enable him, or her, to look over other people's heads when standing on the pavement to watch some public event. The thought occurs here that the popularity of the inventor himself will suffer in proportion to the success of his invention for, obviously, if everyone has them all advantage will be lost.

BRITISH GESTURE

London (Ont.) Free Press

It is hard to imagine anything like the granting of a pension to Communist Willie Gallacher happening anywhere in the world but in Britain.

Members of the House of Commons, with whom he squabbled for years, have granted him from a private parliamentary fund $200 a year. It is a remarkable gesture. It is inconceivable that it could happen in any totalitarian state. As long as British parliamentarians can behave with such bigness they have something worth cherishing. It is a pleasant contrast both to the witch-hunting on this side of the ocean and the regimentation behind the Iron Curtain.

Ups And Downs

"WELL," said the Elevator Man, "I see the annual Canadian sweepstake is drawing to a close. It's not a real gamble, of course, and nearly everybody wins, but the income tax refund is as good as backing a favorite. It's so long since you paid the money in it's more like a gift than a refund. And quite a few people this year drew starters. The real sweepstake ticket holders stand to win more, but then more of them lose, so it evens up. It's so nice to get a cheque from Ottawa you forget it's your own money. Going down!"

"Those people in Cleveland," said the Elevator Man, "must have felt something like we do. They were having a bingo game in a theatre and 250 of them all shouted 'bingo' at the same time. That kind of floored the management. Then they found that the players had been given identical cards through some mistake in making up the package. They all got a dollar instead of just one of them getting the jackpot. That's spreading it pretty thin. Lower main!"

"It reminds me," said the Elevator Man, "of the story of the millionaire and the Communist. The Red claimed the rich man should divide his wealth up among the rest of the population so that everybody could share in the benefit. The millionaire totaled up his assets, divided the sum by the number of people in the country and handed the Communist 15 cents. 'That,' he announced, 'is your share.' And it was."

Twilight Homes Boon To Senior Citizens

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutledge admire kitchen of one of units they will occupy in unique housing project.

Elderly Couples Eagerly Watch Homes Being Built

No young couple just starting out in life ever watched the building progress of their first home with more eagerness and enthusiasm than the 77 senior citizens who will occupy duplexes in Twilight Homes Limited subdivision at Cedar Hill Cross Road and Cedar Hill Road.

One or two couples may move in Wednesday and up to six by the end of this week.

Hardly a day passes when some of the specially-chosen senior citizens do not call to make enquiries of the contractor or just look over the three and one-half acre non-profit housing project which will provide them with a home for the rest of their life at a rental of $20 a month.

"It will be wonderful—a real home after living in two rooms," smiled 73-year-old Mrs. R. W. Anderson, who will occupy one of the neat four-room duplex units with her husband, who is 78.

"Rooms in someone else's house are just no good for old people," she said, adding, "now our family can visit us more often. We have grandchildren and great-grandchildren."

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, now living at 32 San Jose, hope to be in their new home by the end of June.

The trim kitchen, with ample cupboard space, was admired by two other elderly folk, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutledge, 1176 Yates Street, who are on the list of tenants.

"And he'll have a nice garden, too," assured Mrs. Rutledge as she smiled at her husband, 75, a veteran of the First World War, who left Victoria with the 88th Battalion and went to France with the 29th.

There are 12 duplexes now up with five additional and three triplexes to be constructed in this first project of its kind in Victoria. It will be completed in October. All accommodation has been taken in advance following a careful screening of applicants by the committee in charge.

Directors of the $150,000 project are P. H. B. Dawson, Rev. Frederick Pike, Dr. Laura Holland, L.L.D., and Major Harold Nation.

Orphanage Fans Lead Rooters At Baseball Games

"Take me out to the ball game," cry of a group of young baseball fans at the Orphanage, was answered Saturday afternoon when the Victoria Daily Times and Reg. Patterson entertained the boys at a game between Spokane Indians and Victoria Athletics.

The neat, well-mannered boys found a mixture of peanuts, ice cream and baseball much to their liking.

Although the home team absorbed a 14 to 8 drubbing, the boys made lots of noise and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Among those attending were: Ken Byrrell, Clarence Jenkins, Bernard Payne, Eddie Buffee, Len McCord, Charlie Jenkins, Patrick Jenkins, Wesley Jenkins and Ernie Byrrell.

Claim 300,000 Soviet Troops In Red China

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China Monday accused Russia of pouring 300,000 Soviet troops into Red China.

There was no way of confirming the accusation. The Nationalists said earlier Russia and Communist China had agreed that 400,000 Soviet citizens could settle in Manchuria.

The Defence Ministry said that more than 150,000 Russian troops are stationed in such key Manchurian cities as Dairen, Harbin, Mukden and Changchun.

The ministry said 10,000 to 20,000 Soviet troops are stationed south of the Great Wall in Peiping, Tientsin, Tsinan and other main cities. Ten thousand Soviet troops wearing Chinese Communist uniforms but carrying Russian equipment arrived recently in Shanghai, the ministry asserted.

Raspberries Killed By Winter; Cut Them Out

By JACK G. BEASTALL

Question—What is the trouble with some of my raspberry canes which appear to be dead?

Answer—Last fall, due to the mild weather, some of the new canes were showing flower buds as late as the first week of December. These canes which were still in growth were killed by the cold snap in January. They should now be removed at the base.

The raspberry cane-borer is a bad pest in some districts. It pays the home gardener to examine the lower one or two inches of all dead canes, looking for a small hole from which a fine sawdust has fallen. This is the work of the borer and the cane should be cut below the hole, split open, and the grub killed.

NO CEDAR SAWDUST
Q.—Does it matter whether fir or hemlock sawdust is used for mulching raspberries?

A.—No. The only sawdust to avoid is cedar. It is sometimes possible to obtain for the asking the very fine sawdust from a cabinet factory. This is quite satisfactory and will break down much faster than the coarse material used in burners.

Q.—When club-root is present in the soil is it sufficient to dust garden tools with lime to prevent spreading the disease?

A.—The purpose of lime in the treatment of club-root is to create an alkaline condition in the soil which is unfavorable to the increase of the slime mould. The lime itself does not kill, only a strong poison, such as corrosive sublimate, will have this action, and the greatest of care must be exercised in handling it.

Q.—Why do you write only on the narcissus to the exclusion of the daffodil?

A.—Narcissus is the family name such as Jones. Daffodils, jonquils, the Poeticus and Poetaz, and so forth, are members of the family, just like Bill, George, Frank and Elsie.

Windows Of West Shut On All Of Poland's Life

After Tour, De Luce Of AP Describes Grip Of Soviet Russia On Unhappy Land

Daniel de Luce, Pulitzer prize-winning touring reporter of the Associated Press now stationed in Berlin, has just returned from a visit to Poland. The following is one of a series incorporating his observations behind the Iron Curtain.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

WARSAW (AP)—Political geography casts a Red hue over Poland.

She is surrounded on land by the Soviet Union, Soviet-allied Czechoslovakia, and Soviet-occupied East Germany.

Her only sea coast is the Baltic, militarily a Soviet lake.

A garrison of 60,000 Soviet troops guards the vital east-west communications inside the country.

Polish defence is in the hands of a Russian marshal with dual citizenship.

Windows on the west are slammed shut on all phases of Poland's life.

The government and the Communist Party are as one. Under the pseudonym, "Polish United Workers," the party has 1,500,000 members. It controls 24,000,000 Poles.

The Polish-Soviet Friendship Society boasts a membership of 2,642,000. A Communist-officed Youth Association numbers 1,125,000.

Under Red banners, 900,000 Poles marched on May Day in four cities. They were armed, the Communist Party said, "with the invincible weapon of Marx, Engels, Lenin's and Stalin's idea, united by alliance and friendship with the great Soviet Union." They had other arms, too.

The Polish internal security police are estimated at 200,000, equalling Poland's armed forces in size. About 60,000 are plainclothes agents.

In the Warsaw coffee houses, disillusioned leftists of the intelligentsia quip: "We live in the half of the world where lying is obligatory. In the other half, lying is according to preference."

DARK ROOM IDEA ENDED

VANCOUVER (CP)—The theory that children recovering from measles should be kept in a darkened room got a jolt today at a summer medical school here Monday.

Dr. Meyer Wiener, an eye expert from Coronado, Calif., told the doctors rooms should be flooded with light and young patients allowed to read and play as they please.

"Certain light rays have a high creative value," he said. "If you cut them off you are depriving measles patients of curative properties."

Explosion Kills Two Children

DETROIT (AP)—An explosion Monday night leveled a two-story brick house on Detroit's west side, killing two children and critically injuring the mother of one.

The dead: Stanley Gentry Jr., 8, and his cousin, Laura Anders, eight months. The mother, Dorothy Anders, 21, was described as in a "dying" condition in hospital.

St. Roch, At Halifax, Completes Unique Trip Around North American Continent

HALIFAX (CP)—There is just one man in the world who has sailed around the North American continent. He is a Canadian mountie and he finished the job Monday.

Sgt. Frederick Sleight Farrar, 49, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, completed his voyage on the St. Roch, a small supply ship. The small vessel arrived here to be the first in history to sail around North America.

She battered her way through the Northwest Passage and then sailed southward to the Panama Canal. The trip took her from Halifax to Victoria to Halifax.

The red-tinted sergeant, as well as his commander and other members of the 15-man crew, regarded the whole thing as a routine voyage.

Commanding the St. Roch is Inspector K. W. N. Hall of Halifax, handsome, 40-year-old Canadian veteran, who is planning another trip to northern waters within the next two months. All other crew members are Nova Scotians.

Sgt. Farrar, 49-year-old man on the St. Roch, was born in Liverpool, England, and now makes his home in Ottawa. He is the only member of the crew who made the trip both ways—the others made only a one-way trip between Victoria and Halifax.

Three Harrys Commanded Estevan
Said to be a sign of good luck for the lighthouse tender Estevan is the fact that since 1922 she has had a skipper named Harry. Three Harrys met Monday at presentation to Capt. Harry Hughes, now on retirement leave. Joking on deck, left to right, are Capt. Harry R. Bilton, skipper from 1922 to 1943; Capt. Hughes, 1943 to 1950, and Capt. Harry A. Ormiston, present commander of the government ship.

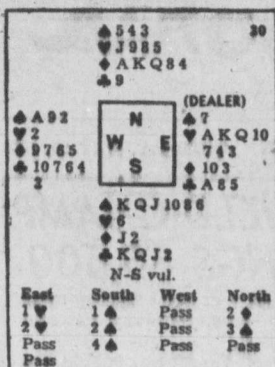

Honor Retiring Skipper Of Estevan At Ceremony

Service of Capt. Harry Hughes aboard Department of Transport boats since 1915 was recognized Monday when the local agent, Tom Morrison, presented the retired skipper with a purse of money.
The ceremony took place aboard the C.G.S. Estevan, on which Capt. Hughes served for nearly 30 years and which he commanded from 1943 till he commenced retirement leave on March 2.

Miss Joyce Dixon of the D.O.T. office presented Mrs. Hughes with a corsage.
The Estevan, now commanded by Capt. H. A. Ormiston, returned to her berth north of Johnson Street bridge Saturday after completing her annual overhaul at Yarrows' Ltd. at Esquimalt.
She will leave Wednesday to service aids to navigation in the Gulf of Georgia.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
"Somebody's feeding these fellows meat," said Generous George. "They bid such a lot against me that it's really embarrassing. I try to give them a trick now and then, but nothing helps. They just keep on going down."
As usual, George's generosity had cost him nothing. On the contrary, it had cost the opponents the game and rubber.
George, holding the West cards, opened the deuce of hearts. East won with the ten of hearts and returned the queen.
It was obvious to everybody at the table that George had led a singleton heart. Declarer therefore trumped with the king of spades to prevent George from making a trick with a small trump.
It was at this point that George was overcome by generosity. Instead of over-trumping with the ace of spades, he discarded a low club with a lordly gesture.
South properly tried to draw trumps in a hurry, leading the queen of spades for the purpose. West took the ace of spades, and led a club to his partner's ace. The defenders now had three tricks in, and another heart lead by East put declarer in the soup.
If South ruffled low West would naturally over-ruff. South had to ruff with the jack and lay down the ten of spades in the hope of drawing both of the missing trumps. This plan did not work since West was able to drop his deuce of spades on the ten, after which his nine was high.
It is easy to see that George did not give up a thing when he refused to over-ruff declarer at the second trick. As a matter of fact, if he had over-ruffed, South would have made the contract!
For example, suppose that West takes the ace of spades at the second trick. He then leads a club to East's ace. East returns another heart, and South ruffs with the queen. Now South can take the jack and ten of spades, drawing the trumps without further loss.
The effect of refusing to over-ruff was to get one of South's high trumps out of the way without weakening West's own trump holding.

Duchess Of Windsor's First Husband, Capt. Spencer, Dies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The first husband of the Duchess of Windsor—American beauty for whom a King gave up his throne—died here Monday.
He was retired U.S. navy captain Earl Winfield Spencer. He and the present duchess—then Wallis Warfield of Baltimore—were married in 1923.
That was just six years after his graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy. They were divorced in 1927, the wife charging desertion.
It was during their marriage that the Prince of Wales—the present Duke of Windsor—visited San Diego during a tour of the United States.
The young couple attended a ball in the prince's honor at the Hotel Del Coronado and it was there that the eyes of the couple whose romance was later to shake a throne first met.
It was but a casual meeting and they did not become acquainted until some years later in London.
The former Mrs. Spencer was then Mrs. Ernest Simpson, wife of a London shipping executive. Romance blossomed and continued after the prince became King Edward VIII. He gave up his throne and Mrs. Simpson obtained a divorce so they could marry and become the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.
Capt. Spencer, 61, was one of the U.S. navy's pioneer aviators. He retired in 1939.
He was visiting here from his Los Angeles home and died from a heart ailment.
Relatives include the widow, Mrs. Lillian Phillips Spencer.
The linen industry was introduced into Belfast in 1633.

MACKENZIE TO COACH KELOWNA

KELOWNA (BUP)—Former National Hockey League defence star Bill Mackenzie has been appointed manager-coach of Kelowna Packers of the Okanagan Mainline League for next season. The 35-year-old former defence star piloted Brandon Wheat Kings to the Memorial Cup finals in the 1948-49 season.

Arthur King Wins Fight Decision

FIVE STRAIGHT WINNERS FOR TED ATKINSON

Canadian Jockey In Great Stand At Belmont Track

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted (The Slasher) Atkinson Monday staged a spectacular one-man riding show at Belmont Park, booting home five straight winners before he was beaten by a neck in the seventh race.

A better, parlaying a $2 wager on the 34-year-old former Toronto jockey in the five races, would have cleaned up $19,161, plus a few pennies. Counting his victory on Ethel Terry, his last mount Saturday, the string yesterday gave Atkinson a stretch of six straight winners.

Race-goers recalled a similar two-day feat by Atkinson at Aqueduct in 1944. Atkinson rode winners in the last two races Sept. 15 and the first five the next day for a streak of seven. Yesterday's rain-drenched crowd of 21,400 gave The Slasher a tremendous ovation when he urged Barefoot Boy under the wire first in the featured Patchogue Handicap at a mile and an eighth.

This was No. 5 for the day, and Barefoot Boy returned a straight mutuel of $22.10. Before that, Atkinson took both halves of the daily double with Puff ($8.90) in the first and Scotch Wine ($11.90) in the second, then scored with Two Rainbows ($5.70) and Bannerday ($22.80) in the fourth and fifth.

Bevens Ball Career Ends

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—When Bill Bevens was driven from the mound by Oakland Sunday night, it marked his finish as a pitcher for the Sacramento Solons of the Coast League. The 33-year-old Bevens, a world series hero with New York Yankees in 1947, was given his outright release by Jo Jo White, Solon general manager. Bevens previously said he would quit baseball if he didn't make good in his comeback effort with Sacramento. He has a job waiting in a furniture store in his home town of Salem, Ore.

Soldiers Win In One Big Inning

Four runs, all coming in the fourth inning, were enough to give Garrison a 4 to 3 victory over Army, Navy and Air Force Vets in a Senior B Men's Softball League game last night. Meanwhile Navy kept its undefeated skein alive with a 10 to 2 triumph over Hudson Lumber. Chester Padgett hurled four-hit ball for the winners. In Senior C League contests, Post Office tripped Esquimalt Athletic Association 9 to 3 and Naval Reserve walloped Ramblers 16 to 2.

Shirley Fry Takes Gorge Golf Title

Medalist Shirley Fry Sunday won the women's championship of the Gorge Vale Golf Club scoring a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. Beryl Paterson. Mrs. R. Rickinson took first flight honors with a 2 and 1 triumph over Mrs. O. Carroll. A similar score gave Mrs. R. Normworthy the second flight championship over Mrs. H. Kirkham, while in the third-flight final Miss B. Haig also scored a 2 and 1 victory with Miss B. Bastin as the victim.

VANCOUVER FIELD CHAMP RETRIEVER BRINGS $5,500

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada's greatest field-running golden retriever, Oakcreek Van Cleve, yesterday was sold to two Spokane fanciers for $5,500. His owner, Charlie Bunker of Vancouver, bought the Oregon-bred pup for $35 four years ago and patiently trained him into the Canadian field trial champion. Van Cleve's new owners are A. Stoddard and G. Wendle of Spokane. His trainer will be Marc Sternhagen. Sternhagen said he will point the small, wiry retriever toward the Golden Specialty Stakes and the American National trials.

Cabbies Move Up With Late Rally

It was cold and windy at Central Park last night but Bluebird Cabs warmed up just in time to defeat B.C. Forest Products, 11 to 8, in a senior A men's softball game. Trailing by two runs going into the ninth, the Cabbies scored a pair to knot the count and then punched three runners across the plate in the top of the 10th to salt the game away and tie the Millmen for third place in the league race.

Cabbies were down 7 to 4 in the third inning leading at one time in the game 4 to 0 by virtue of a grand-slam home run by Charlie Salsbury in the first inning. The millmen came up with a big inning in the third when they plated five runs on only two hits.

Al Majorki, the starting hurler for the winners, was chased to the showers in the third and Charlie Mackay, who is rapidly becoming a hard man to beat, came on to gain credit for the win. Earl King went the route for the losers.

CHEAP HITS

The weather didn't help the brand of play and there were a lot of cheap hits. Besides picking up a home run, Salsbury singled in the winning run in the 10th after Hugh McDonald and Bob Lomas had picked up base hits. Both Lomas and Salsbury came in on successive singles by Ethier and McKay.

Tonight the second-place Chinese Students meet up with Brentwood Aces. Game time is 6:30 at Central Park.

Short score follows: R. H. E. Bluebird Cabs — 11 13 5 B.C. Forest Products — 8 8 5 Majorki, Mackay (3) and Collins; King and Smith.

Drake and George Heller.

The team will play a 32-game home schedule. Omaha, Tulsa, Kansas City, St. Paul and Milwaukee along with Denver will make up the league for the 1950-51 season.

Bob Kerrigan Top Pitcher In W.I.L. Race

TACOMA (AP)—By achieving his seventh and eighth victories of the campaign during the week while still escaping a defeat, Tacoma's Bob Kerrigan has emerged as the Western International League's undisputed pitching leader. It was revealed in figures released today by the office of Robert B. Abel, president of the circuit.

Jokers, Tillicums Risk Win Streaks Wednesday

The front-running Jokers of the Senior B Lacrosse League, who last night blanked Navy, 17 to 0, for their third straight victory bump head-on into the fast improving Tillicums in tomorrow night's feature game at the Memorial Arena.

Tillicums, who dropped the season's opener to the Jokers, but who in pre-season ratings were given the nod as the team to beat, last night trimmed Foul Bay, 7 to 4, for their second win in two outings. Both teams will carry these winning streaks into tomorrow night's game at 7:30. In the second game Foul Bay gets its second crack of the year at the hapless Navy team.

POOR RECORD

Navy have only scored three goals in three games and last night suffered the humiliation of being blanked. Jim Hetherington, Joker netminder, did the honor while Joe Bryant, who once before turned the trick in city boxia, helped pace Jokers to victory with three goals. Ray Douglas and Cliff Scroggie shared the goalkeeping laurels also with a trio of markers.

Knock Off Vancouver's Nicholas; Twin Bill Set

By PETE SALLAWAY Best way to get the jump on an opposing ball team is to step out and knock off its best. That's what Victoria Athletics did to Vancouver Capilanos last night when they whipped George (No Hit) Nicholas 8 to 4 to open an eight-game series. Clubs tangle in a doubleheader tonight, starting at 7, following which the scene shifts to the mainland for five games during the remainder of the week. Last night's clash attracted 3,999.

Caps will look at a pair of cut lefties tonight as Manager Marty Krug has nominated Aldon Willie and Jim Hedgcock to work. Bob Snyder and Hunk Anderson will be on the mound for Vancouver.

John Marshall, making his return after a 10-day layoff owing to a sprained ankle, came up with his fourth victory. The big fellow looked his old self as he was breaking off a deadly slider and getting a big hop on his fast ball. Although he didn't show it, Marshall was plenty weak at the finish. "Those 10 days without running sure put my legs out of shape," he cracked in the dressing room. Marshall pitched with his ankle heavily taped.

Marshall gave up only two earned runs and was placed in a couple of jams when his teammates came up with bad bobbles. Athletics were charged with four errors in all.

WEIRD SCORING

It may have been the appearance of Max Patkin, no-hit baseball clown, but in the first three innings it looked like there were 18 clowns out on the field. The top of the third saw the Caps score three runs on one hit and a couple of errors. That was nothing. Athletics came back in their half to push across a trio without the benefit of a base knock.

Here's what happened. Nicholas hit a wild streak, walking Edo Vanni and Joe Kronberg. Both moved up on K Choriton's infield roller. Third baseman Jimmy Robinson made a beautiful pickup of Gene Thompson's hot ground smash and started a run downplay on Vanni between third and home. Catcher Bill Helsner proceeded to heave the ball into left field, Vanni and Kronberg scoring and Thompson winding up on third. Thompson crossed the plate on a wild pitch.

Athletics moved in front in the fourth with two runs on three hits by Jim Moore, Billy Dunn and Choriton. They got another pair in the sixth featured by Choriton's long triple to deep left field and matched Vancouver's lone run in the seventh.

MOORE DOES WELL Moore, sold to the Athletics by Vancouver, had a field day against his former mates. He got two hits in three trips, stole three bases, scored a pair of runs, took part in three double plays and handled nine chances flawlessly. Marshall's winning performance saw him strike out eight and walk six. Patkin's exhibition was highlighted by his working as a coach for the A's through three innings. His antics drew plenty of laughs and he wound up the performance taking his turn at warming up Marshall and acting the role of a batter. The act went over well.

Qualicum Golf Titles To Aven, Mrs. R. F. Barnes

Ivan Aven of Courtenay took the men's championship of the 19th annual Qualicum Beach Hotel golf tournament over the week-end, defeating John Pickard off Vancouver in the final.

Mrs. R. F. Barnes of Duncan won the women's championship, with Mrs. Arnold Webster of Qualicum Beach as runner-up. Tourney medalists were Pickard in the men's division and Mrs. Gordon H. Money in the women's section.

VETERANS IN STAR ROLES FOR BURRARDS

Spark Squad To Intercity Boxia Win Over Adanacs NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards dug deep into their player reserves Monday night to come up with several of their Mann Cup veterans who in return came up with a smart 14 to 10 win over the Intercity Lacrosse League-leading New Westminster Adanacs.

The win put the Blueshirts in sole possession of second place with three wins and two losses. Veterans Roy Cavallin and Rene Leatherbarrow, two aging Burrards, practically won the game single-handed. It was the lean, diminutive Cavallin who a time after time stopped Adanacs scoring aces Jerome and Proctor.

With their efficient, dogged defence working smoothly around Goalie Jackie Green, the winners never allowed Adanacs more than two consecutive goals. Adanacs' speedy forward line began to pay off in the late stages of the game as they closed the score to 9 to 11 in the third period. Leatherbarrow pulled the Burrards away for good as he burst through for their 12th and assisted on the 13th goals.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Glancing over the latest team averages for the Western International League, one is struck by the fact that our Victoria Athletics have pulled off only 14 double plays as compared to 29 or 30 for majority of the other clubs. League-leading Tacoma Tigers are second lowest with 22, while oddly enough Spokane with the poorest fielding average in the circuit is tops with 31. These figures would indicate there is something wrong with the Victoria club's through the middle combination. Sixth-place Vancouver heads the fielding averages with .968. Athletics are fourth with .960.

Tacoma Tigers Pack Punch

In addition to being the poorest fielding club in the league, Spokane also has the lowest team batting mark at .237. The league-leading Tacoma club tops the batting list with .295. The Athletics are sixth with .257. The power-packed Tri-City squad makes its presence felt by having scored the most runs, hits, and total bases. The Braves also pace the league in home runs with 13. For one of the few times the Athletics do not head the league in strikeouts, that dubious honor going to Tri-City with 172.

Detroit Proves Tops On Road

There's a lot of sweet sentiment in that old ballad, "Home Sweet Home," but don't try singing it to the Detroit Tigers—not with their latest record of 14 victories and three defeats away from home. They're baseball's prize boys of the open road and the only trouble is that when they do get home they can't even play .500 baseball. Their record up until Monday was seven wins and eight defeats. Oddly, the pace-setting New York Yankees in the American League, two full games in front of Detroit, also burned up the road. They returned home this week with a record of 15 wins and four defeats away from the friendly confines of Yankee Stadium. But the original homesickness boys are the Boston Red Sox, who have won 14 games and lost only six at Fenway Park but are just 10-10 around the league.

Will Need Lots Of Liniment

Old-time ball players die hard. When Tommy Forbes sent out the call for candidates to play in the charity game against the Victoria High School squad he experienced no trouble lining up his roster. Many of the fellows who will turn out have not touched a ball in years. And they are going to play seven innings of ball, or should I say go through the motions, without the advantage of one practice. It's a good thing the following day is Sunday, as I know a lot of the boys are going to need the week-end to recover from those seching muscles.

Lot of memories of diamond battles of by-gone days will be recalled when chaps like Jack Bacon, Bill Holman, Dr. Webster, Norm Forbes, Claude (Slim) Belcher, Art Minnis, Tommy Musgrave, Ray Parfitt, Bob Whyte, Doug Peden, just to name a few, once again take up their positions at Athletic Park.

Von Nida New Threat For U.S. Golf Crown

NEW YORK (UP)—Little Norman Von Nida of Australia was the big man today among 133 golfers who had to pass 36-hole qualifying tests for a starting berth in the U.S. Open golf championship at Ardmore, Pa. June 8 to 10.

The hot-shooting Aussie clipped five strokes off par at the Colonial Country Club at Fort Worth, Tex., with 68-67-135, to lead the toughest section in the nation as more than 1,000 players traipsed over the fairways in 24 cities shooting for the last 104 places in the starting field.

Thirty-two others, headed by defending champion Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, were exempt from qualifying on their previous records, and 29 others made it in trials last week. The final field for the tournament proper will be made up of 165 players.

Most of the traveling pros who had to qualify tried their hand in the Fort Worth section, and the pressure was terrific. Von Nida finished a stroke ahead of E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., and two shots in front of big Jim Ferrier of Chicago.

Most of the big name players made it elsewhere around the nation, although the casualties included Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, who failed to show at Chicago, and Melvin (Chick) Harbert at Detroit.

The Big Parade

caught a line drive off Hank Sauer's bat, tossed to Stanky to force Preston Ward, but the second baseman dropped the ball when the Cubs' first baseman crashed into him. Stanky and Manager Durocher were chased.

Bitter Duel Faces Clubs In National

If anybody were to predict a couple of months ago that Philadelphia Phils would come into Brooklyn today as the National League leaders, he'd probably be regarded as nothing more than a died-in-the-wool Philly fanatic.

But here it is May 30, Memorial Day in the United States, and those fightin' Phils are sitting on the roof of the standings, enjoying a half-game margin on the defending champion Dodgers.

The amazing part of the Phils' showing is that they've done it with a minimum of help from Russ Meyer and Ken Heintzelman, the two pitching mainstays of 1949's third-place outfit.

Responsible for the Phils' success are a pair of 23-year-old bonus players—Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons. Each has won six games while losing only two. Roberts won 12 games all last season while Simmons won only four.

The Phils now boast a mark of 22-13. They have the best road record of any club in the circuit with 12 victories against seven losses. The Dodgers have played no better than .500 ball on the road with a 9-9 rating.

CARDS THREATEN

Also threatening are St. Louis Cardinals who can climb on the backs of the leaders with a twin triumph in Pittsburgh. The Cards trail the Phils by one and a half games.

In the American League the inability of the Boston Red Sox to win sufficiently on the road, a deficiency which cost them the flag the last two seasons, again is keeping them from the top rung. As the Red Sox prepared to face the front-running Yankees in New York in a doubleheader, Joe McCarthy's men showed only a 10-10 record away from home.

The Red Sox are in third place, three lengths behind the Yankees, because they're still almost unbeatable at home. They've won 14 of 24 at Fenway Park.

The second place Detroit Tigers are the best road club in the American League so far this season. While playing under .500 ball at home (7-8), Red Rolfe's Bengals have been a ball of fire away from Briggs Stadium where they've won 14 of 17. The Yankees, boasting a two game bulge on the Tigers, have a 14-4 marks on the road and a 10-6 record at home.

Agreement Sought On Drunk Driving Penalties

Garson Tells Commons Of Discussions With Provinces On Clauses In Code

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson indicated in the Commons Monday that the federal government and the provinces have reached no final agreement on how the criminal code should be amended to curb drunken driving.

Replying to opposition requests for heavier penalties, Mr. Garson said the federal government and the provinces have had the matter "under the most careful consideration" for many months. He spoke during study of a bill making a series of minor amendments in the code and said he would not be in order to deal with the drunken driving question.

"When the time comes, I am quite prepared to debate this very issue for just as long as any member of the opposition wishes to debate it," he said. He would give reasons why amendments were not being introduced at this time.

600 EVERY YEAR

The debate on drunken driving was started by John Diefenbaker (P.C.-Lake Centre), who said that 600 or more persons are killed each year on Canadian highways by drunken drivers.

Murder was regarded as a "terrible crime," yet drunken drivers killed five times as many persons as did murderers.

The minimum sentence for drunken driving was seven days and many of those accused were acquitted because it was difficult for the Crown to establish guilt. He urged that at least the "breath test" be inaugurated by Canada to facilitate the conviction of the guilty.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said he hoped "serious consideration will be given to an amendment to the criminal code that will make the slaughter on a scale that is comparable with war casualties such a crime that it could really be dealt with."

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) and Robert Fair (S.C.-Battle River) both expressed hope that criminal code amendments would be made at this session to deal with the matter.

MANY NEED HOMES

The day brought these other developments:

1. Prime Minister St. Laurent, reporting on recent visits to fire-scarred Rimouski and Cabano, Que., said an estimated 3,000 persons were left homeless as a result of the fires. Federal aid will be extended when extent of the damages has been determined.

2. Members who now sit twice a day, adopted a government motion calling for morning sittings to begin Thursday. By a vote of 104 to 30, they defeated a C.C.F. motion that would have delayed the start of the morning sittings until June 8.

3. In another division, members voted 93 to 33 against a Progressive Conservative motion for production of depositions and evidence taken before the income tax appeal board between an appellant identified as "Mr. C" and the revenue minister. The case involved an unidentified judge who appealed against an assessment of income tax on $15,000 paid him as a royal commissioner.

Liquor Raids On Cabarets Farce Alderman Declares

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liquor raids last week-end on downtown cabarets and night spots here brought a protest today from Alderman Archie Proctor during a city council meeting.

Esquimalt Checks Flood Donations

Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt will check other municipalities concerning plans for sending donations to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund on behalf of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

According to some councillors, Esquimalt residents and those from other municipalities were contributing through the Greater Victoria fund.

It was pointed out, however, that if other municipalities were handling their own donations, Esquimalt should follow suit.

TRIBAL RULE CAUSES DEATH

TOPPENISH, Wash. (AP)—The body of a 14-year-old Yakima Indian boy, clad in an old nightgown, belonging to his grandmother, has been found hanging in his grandfather's shed. His death was laid to an ancient tribal custom.

Police said Theodore Peall apparently followed out the outmoded tribal law that a "good warrior" must take the role of the "old woman" or "trail one" if he fails at something in which he believes he should have succeeded. The grandfather said the boy had been trying out for an American Legion baseball team and was discouraged over his prospects.

'SEND FOOD TO CHINA'

Canada Respected By Chinese, Gyros Told

"Let us send China bread, not bullets," said Miss Muriel Cordeaux, at Gyro Club luncheon, Monday.

"Russian Communism in China rests upon the promise of food. China is now becoming aware that the promise means nothing," said Miss Cordeaux. She said that Canada is the one country that is respected and trusted in China, and that this is our chance to enter into trade with the far east.

Miss Cordeaux stressed the fact that riots were already breaking out in China because of the lack of food there and that the Russians could not hold their power in China on broken promises.

She said that Russian policy for the good of the state could not survive in China since the Chinese have no idea what state government means. "They don't even have a word for state," she said. She pointed out that China's civilization is built around the family and that the Chinese know nothing of the state except the community around them.

"Canada can't afford isolation," she said. Miss Cordeaux said that we are potentially the greatest country in the world and that our livelihood depends on trade. She said that B.C. is the gateway to the east and we must enter into trade with China.

Dr. J. Endicott Explains Aims Of Peace Movement

'Ban The Bomb' Petition Circulated Among Audiences In Victoria

A philosophy that free enterprise and planned economy can share a peaceful co-existence, and that with negotiations, compromise and patience, through the United Nations, peace can be achieved was expounded to about 250 Victorians Monday night by Dr. James G. Endicott, Toronto, chairman of the Canadian Peace Congress.

Speaking mainly on the organization he heads, Dr. Endicott, a United Church minister born in China, invited persons to join the peace movement regardless of race, religion, political belief or any other line.

"We are not concerned to defeat the foreign policy of the Soviet Union. In our peace movement, you may criticize it as much as you like. The dividing line is this: If the purpose of your criticism is to prove that the solution is war, you do not belong with us; if it is for a peaceful solution, you should be one of us," the tall, bespectacled minister said.

Dressed in a blue business suit, Dr. Endicott answered charges levelled at him by External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson, and outlined the second objective of the peace movement—to do something active and practical for peace.

BOMB PETITION

He urged all present who had not done so as they entered the lower hall room of the Crystal Garden, scene of the meeting, to sign a "ban the bomb" petition which would "brand as a war criminal that government which first uses the atomic weapon."

The petition now has 200,000 of its objective of 500,000 signatures, Dr. Endicott said.

The speaker, who visited Moscow early last March as one of a delegation of 15 who presented peace proposals to the Soviet government, said Asian people's movements have been going on for 100 years, and are not the fault of Russia in recent years.

"There are powerful groups in the U.S. who are insisting on policies which, unless changed, will lead to war. I am convinced from what I saw in the Soviet Union and eastern Europe that they are building for peace, they want peace and they will not tolerate any plan for war. They are not rearming," he said.

Dr. Endicott noted that the U.S. flew two Chinese Communists to San Francisco in 1945 to sign the United Nations Charter, adding that "now the U.S. won't let them in."

"Proof of the desire for peace in this country was seen by the Toronto man since on his current

FIRM GIVES FREE CARS EACH YEAR TO WORKERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver employer has hit on a unique way to get more work out of his employees—and they love him for it.

L. D. Dueck, president of an automobile firm, gives a new car each year to his 100 senior employees. Junior employees—those who have worked less than a year for the firm—get the use of a new car during their vacation.

Officials say there are no restrictions on who gets the car. They go to metal men and mechanics as well as department heads and foremen.

"The program means a continual, heavy capital investment," says Mr. Dueck, "but we have found through experience that the investment is fully returned in first-class workmanship, greater plant efficiency and productivity."

Mr. Dueck started his scheme in 1942. He gave every employee a car during vacations. This worked out so well that in 1945 he decided to give senior employees the cars on a year-round basis.

The employees turn the cars in each year and receive a new one, equipped with license and heater. There are no charges and no "ifs."

Conciliation On Island Newspapers Wage Dispute

The B.C. Labor Relations Board announced today it had appointed W. T. McLaughlin to act as conciliation officer in a dispute between Nanaimo Typographical Union, Local 337, and four Vancouver Island weekly newspapers.

The parties have been unable to agree upon a wage rate, overtime pay for holidays and provision for two weeks' vacation and sick leave.

The union had asked for a wage rate of $1.50 per hour for day work and $1.60 per hour for night work. The publishers have suggested a wage reduction of 2½ cents per hour.

The dispute involved the Comox District Free Press and the Comox Argus, Courtenay; the West Coast Advocate, Port Alberni, and the Cowichan Leader, Duncan.

About 18 employees of the four newspapers are affected.

The first insurance business to be practiced was that of ships and property at sea.

on the TIMES

By ART STOTT

ABOUT THREE centuries have slipped by since the old London coffeehouses popularized coffee as a social drink. There can't be much similarity between the present day plastic-topped counters, where you can clutch a mug and smoke a cigarette in what passes for mid-morning relaxation, and the 17th Century room, with its heavy furniture, where men-about-town, literateurs and politicians gathered for leisurely talk. There probably isn't much similarity, either, between the talk now and then.

The encyclopaedia speaks glowingly of the coffee houses, where "the wits, philosophers and writers of the day warmed their hearts and loosened their tongues over the steaming cup." Well, the tongues are still loosened. The buzz of conversation drones into a continuous hum broken only by a sharp burst of laughter, or the nerve-shattering crash of a dropped plate.

THERE ISN'T any limit to the subject matter of the talk. A quartette of girls, white-clad in the uniform of a store department in which they work, whip in for their 15-minute intermission. Walled in a special privacy they create in public, they chatter of the week-end.

"Wadya do on Sunday? Go to the beach?" The conversation splutters along, rapid-fire. Maybe it's about the dance that's coming up, maybe about a radio program, a new hat, a smart dress in one of the local shop windows.

The matrons, out shopping, move in more quietly, talking to the counter sales in small flocks—talking about bargains in food, a new stove, furniture, materials for drapes, about the youngsters at school, a friend in the hospital or one who should be there.

YOUNG BUSINESSMEN swap stories, their heads drawn together like conspirators. A quick laugh and they separate, spreading back on the counter stools, inhaling their cigarettes and drinking the coffee that is their excuse for being there.

A solitary diner comes in, orders a late breakfast, forms a small, alien island in his absorption with the food.

This is the popular forum. In another day it might have been the village pump, with women gossiping as they drew their water, or the blacksmith's forge, with its salty male talk of crops, stock and town characters.

Talk doesn't run deep at the coffee counter. There isn't time. A philosopher hasn't the leisure to develop his theme. Subjects have to fit into the contracted mold of the short description, the wisecrack. An idea can be only sketched, not filled in.

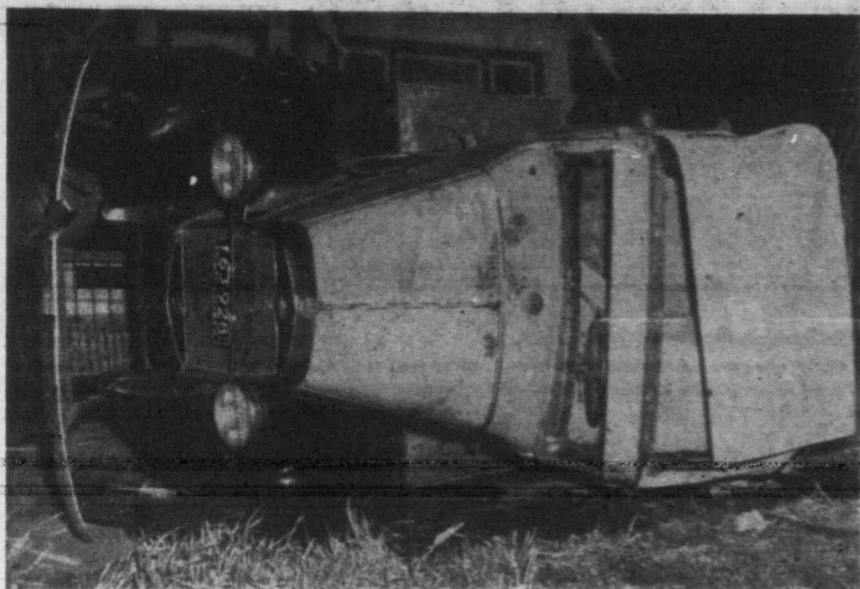

IT SERVES A purpose, though, and has the blessings of medical men. The experts say that the break of 10 or 15 minutes is good for the people who take it and for the people they work for. That short release from tensions and concentrations on the job is good for health and good for productivity, and coffee taken in moderation—one cup in mid-morning—is not harmful.

Store operators see it in the same light. It gives staffs a chance to get off their feet for a short rest. It takes them away from the discipline of a store. For a brief interlude over coffee, the customer is not necessarily right. The intermission gives clerks a chance to blow off steam if it has been building up on the job. It's a safety valve.

There's an informality about a coffee counter. A patron is his neighbor's equal. Small groups form their own social clubs. Over the cup that loosens the tongue, they trade experiences, home incidents, events in the office or store. They work off their pet peeves against the government, set the city right, discuss sociology, though they may not recognize it as such.

IT ISN'T AS free and easy as a swimming pool, where strangers talk to you as a matter of course, but a coffee counter relaxes the conventions. You can pick up short and entertaining conversations with people you've never met. A woman you haven't seen before, asks if you have ever been to Lake Louise. She tells you it's two feet deep in snow right now. You get into a short chat on scenery, the beauties of the Rockies, the dazzling sparkle of mountain lakes, the sharp, vivid tones of alpine poppies in the fields sloping to Louise, and for a minute or two you recapture an old vacation there.

The 1950 coffee counter isn't the coffeehouse of 17th Century London. By comparison it's a pretty hurried breather in the rush of the morning's work. But it has its points. It's a place of easy laughter, of friendly contact, some small escape from the concentration of doing a particular job too long.

Driver, Passenger Injured

Driver Leonard Elphick, 21, 1784 Adanac Street, and passenger, Russell Cheney, 27, 120 Ontario Street, were injured at 1.20 this morning when this car mounted sidewalk, knocked down fence and turned

Spanking Winds Aid Sailing Craft As Gossip Wins Swiftsure Race

Dr. R. Phillip Smith's Gossip, 45-foot sloop from Seattle Yacht Club, today was declared winner of the 155-mile Swiftsure sailing race by officials who checked times in the annual handicap event.

Gossip crossed the finish line at the Victoria breakwater at 4.05 Monday afternoon, 29 minutes behind the first finisher, Alotola, owned by Charlie Frisbee of the Corinthian Yacht Club, Seattle, but corrected times, based on a handicap of so many seconds per hour, gave top honors to Gossip.

BEST TIME

Best time among the 12 boats which started from Protection Island, off Port Townsend at 10 Sunday morning and sailed around Swiftsure lightship off Cape Flattery, was made by J. Graham's 74-foot yawl Maruffa of the Seattle and Victoria yacht clubs.

She navigated the court in 29 hours, 36 minutes and 17 seconds. Aboard her as crewman was Dr. R. J. Wride, commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

Runners-up in the race was Nautilus III, owned by Harbison Monroe, Tacoma Yacht Club; third, Oso, Herbert Day, Corinthian Yacht Club; fourth, Alotola, Charles Frisbee; fifth, Red-jacket, George Parsons, Seattle Yacht Club, and sixth, Maruffa.

Order of finish of the other craft finishing was not announced. Two boats did not finish.

MARKED CONTRAST

In marked contrast to last year, when no boat finished within the prescribed time limit, good winds sent the vessels scudding along at a fast clip throughout most of this year's race.

Monday it was blowing as much as 40 miles per hour in the straits at times. The winning Gossip was knocked flat over off Race Rocks, and had to cut loose her spinnaker to right herself.

Two other boats also had to cut their spinnakers—the big balloon-like sail forward of the mainsail.

The Canadian destroyer Athabaskan and a U.S. Coast Guard flying boat patrolled the course. Race was sponsored by the Pacific International Yachting Association.

Other boats in the race were Circe (Roy Cook, Seattle Y.C.); Westward Ho (William Hellell, Seattle Y.C.); Swiftsure (Gus Gratzner, Tacoma Y.C.); Dorade (Franklin Eddy, Seattle Y.C.); Angelica (John Locke, Seattle Y.C.); and Cerada (Dr. C. D. Goodhope, Queen City Y.C.).

Circe and Swiftsure did not finish.

Co-Operation Necessity In Recreation Programs

It is not the right of any individual organization to do a specific job in recreation, Dr. Alan Klein, associate professor at the University of Toronto, conducting a four-day institute on the development of recreation leaders here, said today.

No single agency or congregation of private agencies could do the whole job of recreation.

"It doesn't really matter who does the job so long as it is done," Dr. Klein said.

Oppose Longer Hours For Sale Of Groceries

Vigorous opposition to any extension of hours of sale for grocery items was expressed in a brief sent to City Council today by Harold P. Gray, 335 Cook Street, grocery store proprietor.

Any such move, he said, would be a backward step taking into effect strides made during this century, with regard to a shorter work week in many trades. He stressed improvement in working conditions of retail clerks.

"Longer hours mean more overhead and the only way to cut overhead is to cut wages or do without a member of the staff and make or force the proprietor into doing more work himself."

G. L. Scott of Scott and Peden Ltd. also opposed any extension of closing hours, stating it would be a retrograde step.

Speaking on the relationship of the private agencies to community recreation, Dr. Klein said no difference should be implied as to the quality whether it is a private or public agency.

CO-OPERATION NECESSITY

The importance of co-operation was stressed. It didn't matter as long as the budget, staff, "know-how" and the facilities were all put together, the speaker continued.

The recreation picture changed in every area, he said.

"I don't think we should have a stereotype program in every community."

The speaker advocated the use of private buildings for public agencies.

"After all, these buildings were built on public funds. There is no sense in having schools closed at night and community halls being closed during the daytime," Dr. Klein said.

One of the main problems in recreation was the building of leader corps and not having them walk out or move south of the border.

SEAGULL LIVED 20 YEARS

Victoria Woman Aids Bird Longevity Record

By promptly forwarding a numbered band taken by her from the leg of a recently killed glaucous-winged seagull on April 7, 1950, near Victoria, Miss Yvonne Rathbone of 1473 Fort Street has been instrumental in adding a valuable longevity record to the life history of this species.

She has been informed from Washington, D.C., that this bird was banded on Aug. 2, 1929, on Bare Island, Haro Straits, by an ornithologist residing at Mill Bay, Cobble Hill. The age of this bird, therefore, would be no less than 20 years and eight months.

The banded of this bird shows that longevity among glaucous-winged gulls once they have reached maturity, which is about their third or fourth year, is probably due to the fact that they are a resident species rarely wandering beyond a radius of 50 or 60 miles of the rock or island on which they were born. Life among the migratory species of gulls is naturally more hazardous.

However, although many glaucous-winged gulls live 10, or as in this case, 20 years, the mortality among juveniles is exceptionally heavy, especially during the first 10 months of their lives.

Pork Prices Show Increase

A two-cent increase in the wholesale price of carcass hogs and a four or five-cent rise in pork cuts hit the city's meat packers this week.

While the problem of supply and demand was given as the main reason for the increased price, in pork products, some dealers said the rise was only seasonal.

"With more buyers turning to pork because of the higher beef prices, the supply is becoming curtailed," the manager of one large meat-packing firm reported.

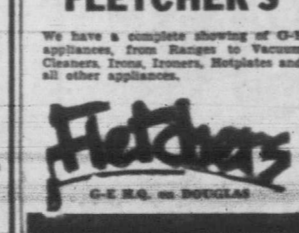

Although some firms stated they expected no further increases in the near future, others stated the live hog market was still rising and just where it would stop would be a difficult question to answer.

"It can only rise so far, and then people will stop buying pork," another manager said.

Flood Relief Fund Here Near $20,000

Collections here for the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund neared the $20,000 mark today.

Although all collections were not tallied, $165 was received in the Victoria Mayor's Fund at the City Hall today.

Students at Mount View High School, through a variety show and other activities, have contributed almost $500. The two-hour show, presented Friday evening, included individual solos by students, a comedy skit, and vocal selections by J. N. Clarke, former Winnipeg teacher now on the Mount View staff.

City Hall officials in charge of the fund announced today that Sunday's benefit senior A men's senior A softball game added $181.65.

With the R.C.A.F. flying blood to Winnipeg weekly from Vancouver, officials of the local Red Cross Society announced a blood clinic will be opened here at the Red Cross House June 7 and 8. It will be in operation in Sidney June 6.

Public Still Building Fund

With the Sanich Municipal Hall staff deep in the throes of preparing for the secession-plebiscite voters' list, no up-to-date count had been made this morning on the public donations to the "Red Fund."

However, John B. Tribe, municipal clerk, reported that cheques are continuing to come in. Total up to last night was $2,700.

Fund was started to rehabilitate Raymond Reid and his two daughters following the fire that destroyed his home recently and took the lives of his wife and three youngest children.

Operators Certain Seven All-Night Service Stations

Sixty-one Petition City For New By-law Governing Closing Hours

Confidence that there will be seven or eight applications for all-night service station permits in Victoria, was expressed today by J. C. Hawkes of the Garage and Motor Trades Association of B.C.

Speaking on behalf of Harry Davis, business manager of the association, Mr. Hawkes presented a formal petition at City Hall, signed by 61 gasoline service station operators, asking the city to repeal its former by-law, which was not upheld in the courts, and draft a new one.

According to Mr. Hawkes, the new by-law will operate the year round, whereas the old one was not in effect through June, July and August.

He said if the by-law goes through in the normal way it should go into effect some time in June.

The second new point is that which rules that election to be a night station must be made by the operator in the first 15 days on November, whereas in former years some operators who elected to be an all-night station in May reverted to 8-to-6 hours in the fall.

"Immediately after the by-law goes into effect, operators will have to elect if they want to operate between 8 in the morning and six at night or operate on a 24-hour basis," Mr. Hawkes said. "Thereafter, annual election will take place in November."

He said the new by-law was the result of several old by-laws.

Predict Lower B.C. Berry Crop

There will be fewer strawberries, blackberries and loganberries produced in British Columbia this year, according to preliminary estimates made by provincial government horticulturists.

They say the strawberry crop will be 6 per cent less than what it was in 1949 and the blackberry crop will be down about 4 per cent. The loganberry crop will only be reduced by little more than 1 per cent.

Main reason given for the decrease in berry production is extensive damage to plants during the past winter.

The province's crop of raspberries is expected to be heavier this year, although a decrease in production is forecast for Vancouver Island.

BROADCASTER Des McDermott, featured on local news and special events programs, will be heard on a Victoria Times-CKDA broadcast tonight, reporting on returns in today's beer plebiscite. The broadcast will be heard over station CKDA, 1340 kilocycles, beginning shortly after 8. The radio station, in co-operation with the Times, will keep listeners informed as the vote count progresses and will announce the result immediately it is known.

Having Tent Made To Order Not Expensive After All!

By PENNY SAVER

Dropped in to see my friend Mabel the other afternoon when she and her young son, Junior, were going at it tooth and nail. Junior wanted to go wild, west and wooly, complete with tent and trimmings to sleep out in the back yard, nights, and mama wasn't going to hear of such barbaric doings. As a matter of fact my good friend had notions of her own that having a tent made would cost her ten or fifteen dollars! That's where I intervened with my two bits worth.

"Mabel," says I, as boldly as possible, "it won't cost you any such price!" "Oh," says Mabel smiling, showing her firmly clenched teeth and quickly plugging Junior's ears, "then how much?" "Five dollars will do nicely," said I.

Well, that seemed to calm down the household, so I ventured just a little further and told her about the lower Johnson Street shop that offers canvas in every shape, form, color and weight for covering or renewing couches, deck chairs, lounges, suitcase and awnings. The foregoing mentioned are but a few of the many pieces of equipment and furniture to be found in that store.

Stacked high is canvas from 17 inches wide to be used for camp furniture, and the 120-inch width, that will gladden the hearts of the seamen, landlubbers, or otherwise, to be used for tops of launches or trucks. Egyptian cotton, commonly known as silk, is available for fine yacht sails.

Cushions for beach wear or on your "ship of the sea," will be made up in plastic, in colors of turkey red, russet, pale blue, yellow, from $1.75 and up, depending on size. The cushions sport two handles and in a moment of need they could be used as life preservers. There was a smart set of suitcase covers on the counter, in a deep wine color. That particular pair was made up for $12 and sported a zipper opening the handle slit was bound with genuine leather. Others are made to order from $5.75 up, again depending on size. Choice of colors is brown, green, black, wine and olive green.

If you have planned to take your old faded deck chairs in for a new face, I don't know how long it will take you to choose, but I was amazed at the color combinations offered. In solid shades, blue, green, orange and yellow, as well as striped combinations of every color imaginable.

Sleeping bags to meet your demands range in price from $15 to $100. The $15 outdoor-bed, complete with zipper side opening, is wool-filled and easily rolled up to fit into one of their $2 duffel bags. Haversacks in all sizes, from $1.25, feature hard-wearing shoulder straps in leather or canvas.

Well, Mabel looks as if it's "hey, ho, it's off to the great outdoors we go!"

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The moment a child becomes an independent personality and begins to act in ways which are in conflict with the desires of the parent there arises the question of punishment.

What is punishment expected to perform? It is supposed to sour the child against acting in this particular way. On the face of it, this sounds reasonable. But does it work? It does not. Why doesn't it work? Because if it did the parent would never allow a child even the amount of freedom it gets now. If punishment worked to prevent a child from acting as he wants to act, there would be no limit to the parents' demands upon the child. The child couldn't grow up, if it would work to simply say, "You can't do that," and then punish the child if he did.

The only time that punishment can deter a child from repeating improper behavior is when the child himself realizes that this behavior is impossible. Children are pretty reasonable beings and they know when what they want to do simply can't be done. If they do it, they expect penalties. They find them just and right and do not resent them.

But, the kind of punishment which is intended to prevent the child from ever being a nuisance to the parents, from causing them any grief or work or inconvenience, has not yet been invented. Just in growing up and acting like children, they are sure to be of some grief or work or inconvenience, has not yet been invented. Just in growing up and acting like children, they are sure to be of some grief or work or inconvenience, has not yet been invented. Just in growing up and acting like children, they are sure to be of some grief or work or inconvenience, has not yet been invented.

Worn shoes are tattle-tales and it's a good idea to bring the old ones to the store when buying a new pair. The story they tell may be helpful in selecting the right type for the foot. For instance, evidence that shoes no longer fit the developing foot of the child can be seen if the seams have broken before a shoe has had excess wear, or if there are crooked breaks in the leather across the vamp of the shoe. If the upper of the shoe has been pushed over the sole, the child's foot now needs wider or longer shoes.

Lives On Ship Prefers Horses

LONDON (CP)—One little girl in Britain is as familiar with the ports and estuaries around the coast as most children are with the streets in their home town. She is 12-year-old Daphne England, whose father, Captain Richard England, is master of the Nellie Bywater — last of the wooden coastwise schooners. Since she was seven weeks old, Daphne has known no home other than the Nellie Bywater, and she is a useful member of the crew. "I steer in fine weather," she says, "and I paint, scrape and scrub the decks."

When the schooner puts into port, Daphne goes to the local school, a new one nearly every week, but manages to keep up with the other girls.

Her classmates envy her roving life, but Daphne's dream has been of horses, ever since the day a year ago she sat on a horse's back for the first time.

"I was rather frightened," she says, "but I knew at once that when I grew up I would want to live near horses."

Schoolboy Designs Child-Size Dresses

LONDON (CP) — Leslie Gordon, a London schoolboy, spends his leisure designing, cutting and sewing child-size women's evening dresses. Leslie's dresses are so well designed and finished they have impressed some of London's wholesale fashion houses. They occasionally give him odd bits of material.

Most of Leslie's pocket money goes on materials and trimmings that he wants for special effects. His workshop is a corner of his father's tailoring shop and here on tiny dummies he sews, sequesters and embroiders.

"I've always loved the beautiful dresses in the shops," says Leslie, "and I wanted to try to make some. My brother taught me to sew and I made by drawings but I did not have any materials."

"So I went to a wholesale house and asked for any bits they had left over. They laughed at me at first, but now they are always very interested to see my finished models."

"At school my headmaster has helped to get my admission to a technical school where I shall study dress-designing and the practical side."

St. Helena's School at Poona, India, has a Canadian wing erected with the $27,000 contributed by the I.O.D.E.

1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
2 ½ cups milk
¼ cup Minute Rice
1 square Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Meringue (see below)

Combine egg yolk and ¼ cup of the milk; mix well. Add Minute Rice, melted chocolate, sugar, salt, remaining milk. Bring to boil; simmer gently 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add butter and vanilla. Bake in greased small baking dish in slow oven (325° F.) 30 minutes, stirring once during baking. Remove from oven and stir again. For meringue, beat 1 egg white until foamy throughout. Gradually beat in 2 tablespoons sugar; continue beating with rotary beater until mixture stands in soft peaks. Drop by spoonfuls over pudding. Brown in 400° F. oven (5 minutes). Makes 4 servings.

QUEEN'S RICE PUDDING

Omit chocolate in above recipe. Before covering the baked pudding with meringue, spread with a thin layer of tart jam or jelly. For a special touch, sprinkle Baker's Coconut over the meringue before baking.

OLIVE RICE, TOMATO RAREBIT

To 1 ½ cups water, add 1 package Minute Rice; add ¼ teaspoon salt, bring to full boil. Remove from heat; cover, let stand 10 minutes. For the sauce, heat 1 can condensed tomato soup, add 2 cups grated sharp cheese, ½ teaspoon mustard; cook and stir till cheese melts. To rice, add ½ cup chopped stuffed olives, 2 tablespoons butter. Serve with sauce, 4 servings.

Supper... luncheon... dinner... yes, even breakfast! — can be wonderfully helped by new Minute Rice — the amazing pre-cooked rice that makes dozens of taste-thrills quicker for you.

Miracle-Quick, Miracle-Easy

Minute Rice is so quick and easy to prepare! You just add water — and bring to the boil. DOROTHY DIX

Letter-writing appears to be one of the things that we either underdo or overdo. We are afflicted with either total paralysis, or else we slop over reams of fine white paper and write things which we never should have written.

All of us have entertained guests who seemed to have a good time, and were voluble in their thanks for our hospitality, but who never wrote back even a bread-and-butter. All of us have sped friends on their journeys and never got a line back to apprise us of their safe arrival. All of us have members of our families living in distant places about whom we are continually anxious because we hear from them so seldom. All of us know the watching and waiting and the disappointment of looking for the letter that never comes.

DON'T DO IT ON PURPOSE

Now these people who never write letters are not deliberately rude nor cruel. They are just selfish and unregarding of the comfort and pleasure of others. If you lived near these nonletter-writers, they would not fall in the little attentions that foster friendship and bind hearts together. If you were in trouble, they would come to you with offers of assistance. If a piece of good luck befell you, they would be the first to congratulate you and if sorrow darkened your house, they would be there to hold out a friendly hand of sympathy. But if they are separated from you, and the expression of their sentiments toward you requires the writing of a letter, you never hear from them.

One of the chief causes of estrangement in families is the aversion so many people have to writing letters. Brothers and sisters marry and move to different parts of the country and utterly lose touch, with each other because they are too busy and preoccupied with their own affairs even to exchange a single line. It is pitiful to think how much precious family affection is lost for the sake of a few stamps.

NEGLECT MOTHERS

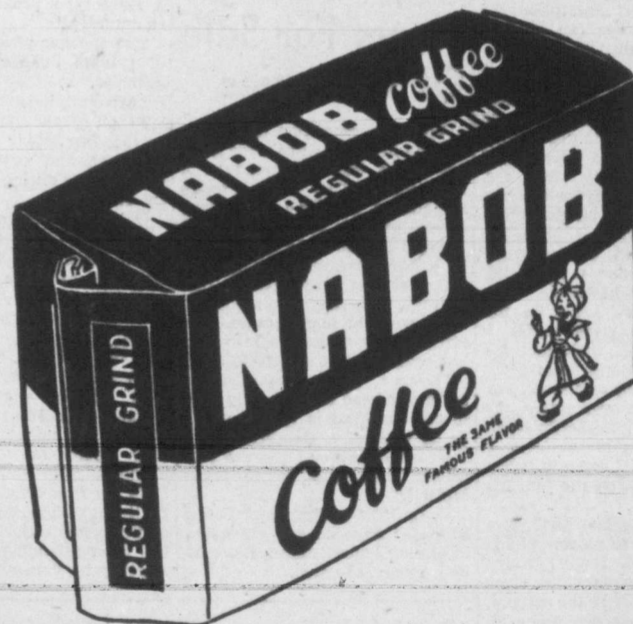

The worst offenders among those who are too lazy and too self-absorbed to write letters are those who do not write to their mothers.

When men and women carry their dislike of letter-writing so far that they fail to write regularly to their mothers, it becomes a wanton cruelty for which no excuse can be offered. To their credit be it said that few women are guilty of this sin. Most women, no matter how hard-worked they are, how busy they may be, still find time to write back home to their mothers long gossip letters telling them all the little details of their lives. But there are thousands upon thousands of men who never write at all to their mothers, or, if they do occasionally send mother a line, it is a formal dictated note that has as much heart in it as an order for a ton of coal.

Mrs. R. de Satge, right, divisional chairman, and director of home nursing and first aid, came from Vancouver to present certificates to C.G.I.T. members from Betty Schneider, Shirley Cove and Ruth Sones. Mrs. de Satge has been with Red Cross since 1914, and during World War II had charge of Canadian Red Cross Corps for British Columbia. Since the war she has been teaching junior home nursing to high school groups on the mainland.

Red Cross Chairman Presents 62 Home Nursing Awards; Message For Future

"Whatever you do, do it well."

This was the important message given by divisional chairman, Mrs. R. J. C. de Satge of Vancouver, director of home nursing and first aid, when she presented members of Canadian Girls in Training with their certificates for home nursing and first aid, last evening at Red Cross Headquarters.

The small, grey-haired woman, who has devoted almost her whole life to Red Cross, illustrated her message with a touching story of a group of blind persons in Vancouver, who were learning home nursing.

Her young listeners, clad in freshly starched white and navy middie and dark skirts, were enthralled as they were told of the patience and courage of the blind students as they learned to make beds, change beds with patients in them, give medicines, how to make a patient comfortable by improvising at home, how to act in emergencies, and other rudiments of home nursing, just as they had been taught in their two-month course.

"The sightless members of my class have learned well, for they have no distractions, they are extremely interested and are very gentle," the divisional chairman pointed out.

Mrs. Satge, a graduate of Calgary Holy Cross Hospital and a teacher of nurses there for many years, then presented 62 certificates to C.G.I.T. members from different church groups.

Mrs. S. G. Cave, chairman of home nursing and first aid committee, introduced Col. J. Q. Gillan, president of Victoria City and District Branch, who pointed out the importance of home nursing in the Red Cross.

The instructors, all graduate nurses and many with university teacher training, were thanked for their voluntary work in attending several meetings each week, and it was noted that some of the instructors had been teaching the course over a number of years.

The evening closed with the showing of a film on "Water Safety" and travelogues.

MRS. HODGES PRESIDES

Liberal Women Gather For National Meeting In Ottawa June 7 And 8

OTTAWA—Nearly 200 delegates, including a representative from the Yukon and a delegation from Newfoundland, will attend the convention being held by the National Federation of Liberal Women in Ottawa, June 7 and 8, in the Chateau Laurier.

Mrs. Nancy L. Hodges, M.L.A., Speaker of the British Columbia Legislature, and first woman in the British Commonwealth to hold such a position, will preside at meetings as retiring president. Madame Henri Vautelet, Montreal, will lead a forum discussion on "Women's Place in Canadian Politics." Social events in connection with the meetings will be a reception given by wives of Cabinet Ministers on June 7 and on June 9 Mrs. J. Gordon Fogo, wife of Senator Fogo, president, National Liberal Federation, will entertain at tea at the Ottawa Country Club.

Mrs. E. F. Pinchin, Whitehorse, will represent Liberal women in the Yukon and the delegation from Newfoundland will include Lady Squires of St. John's. Lady Squires was prominent in the Island's suffrage movement which was successful in winning Newfoundland women the vote in 1925. Subsequently she was the only woman ever to be elected to the Island's House of Assembly.

Among delegates expected from British Columbia and Alberta are: Mrs. Hodges, Mrs.

J. L. Gates and Mrs. T. C. Smith, all of Victoria; Mrs. G. W. Klisick, Miss Haroldine Copp, Miss Louise Hill, Mrs. W. G. Grove, Mrs. Lillian Stuart and Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, all of Vancouver; Mrs. W. D. Smith, Prince Rupert; Mrs. F. J. Conroy, M.B.E., Edmonton, and Mrs. C. R. de la Vergne, Brooks, Alberta.

Mrs. Hodges in a recent message to Liberal women pointed out that "since the last convention was held in 1948, Confederation has been enriched by addition of a 10th province—Newfoundland, Canada also had a general election at which voters throughout the Dominion wholeheartedly and convincingly endorsed Liberal government and Liberal policies."

"The prospects of world peace have diminished alarmingly since 1948."

"All of these things lend an importance to forthcoming deliberations of the convention. It is because of the urgent necessity of Liberal women getting together and studying and discussing matters of great moment which confront us today that we are giving the greatest possible time on our two-day agenda to business, and the minimum to entertainment."

"It isn't only the spirit and intent of Liberalism that we hope to serve and strengthen by thus coming together for the exchange of views. It is the spirit of Canadian unity that we hope to weld into an even stronger chain by this gathering together of women from all 10 provinces in the capital city of this great Dominion."

Young Liberals' Dance Thursday

President Ron B. Worley with Mrs. B. Marshall, John Coates and R. Griffiths are in charge of arrangements. Charlie Hunt's orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 1.

Newman Alumni Association first annual meeting Thursday at home of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. W. Nash, 3019 Quadra Street at 8. Following election of officers, square dancing will be enjoyed.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Plaza Theatre

"Steamboat Round the Bend," which brought Will Rogers and Irvin S. Cobb together on the screen, is currently at the Plaza Theatre as an encore triumph from Twentieth Century-Fox. Anne Shirley, Stepin Fetchit, Eugene Pallette and Berton Churchill will also be seen.

Capitol Theatre

Paramount's "Paid in Full" now at the Capitol Theatre, is a powerful drama that for sheer intensity of emotion equals anything Hollywood has ever turned out. Starring in this Hal Wallis production are Robert Cummings, Elizabeth Scott and Diana Lynn.

Breakfast should supply at least one-quarter of the day's food requirements.

Kathryn Grayson Refuses To 'Light Up' In Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kathryn Grayson is a girl with a mind of her own. Slated to smoke her first cigarette on the screen, she rebelled.

"I don't smoke," she said. "I never have, and I can see no reason why I should on the screen. The cigarette companies can sue me for this, but they can't convince me there is any good reason for smoking."

"Of course," she added sheepishly, "I eat candy instead." Though she's sticking to her no-smoking edict, she gets a chance of pace in other ways in her new film, "Grounds for Marriage." It is the first time in years she hasn't been the subject of a big costume musical in color.

"I get a real chance to act," said Miss Grayson.

HOPE AND CROSBY

Bob Hope is serious about wanting to escape his current air sponsor. Insiders report he may even stay off the radio next season if he doesn't get his freedom.

Royal Theatre

Stars, romance and novelty all add up to laughs in M-G-M's "The Big Hangover," on the Royal screen this week.

The stars are Van Johnson, as a boy with ideals, and Elizabeth Taylor, as the boss's daughter—with ideas of love. The romance starts when the ideals and ideas get together.

Odeon Theatre

Gale Storm co-stars with Audie Murphy in Universal-International's Technicolor "The Kid From Texas," playing currently at the Odeon Theatre.

The tourist industry is Canada's second greatest single source of needed foreign exchange, ranking only behind pulp and paper exports.

a nifty. He brought back excerpts from his best programs of the year. This might be a good idea for other shows—presenting their best of the year as a kind of encore at the final curtain.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"Sunset Boulevard" is a bitter tale of the other side of Hollywood—the fall from fame. It may shatter illusions about Hollywood life, but it remains a sharp and fascinating document. Gloria Swanson, as the faded movie queen, gives a startling performance and is virtually a cinch for the next Oscar. Bill Holden gives a polished job in a hard role. Erich Von Stroheim and Nancy Olson are also excellent. A standout film.

BOY, GIRL FLEE SOVIET ZONE

BERLIN (Reuter)—A blue-shirted boy and girl asked the West Berlin police for protection Monday, saying they were being sought by the East German police for making a "derogatory statement" about the Communist Youth parade Sunday. This brought the number of free German youth who have taken refuge in the west during the last four days to 11.

Request Midnight Closing Provision In Garage By-law

Provision in the revised Service Station Closing Regulation By-law, to allow garages to stay open until midnight, was asked by Cec Rawlings of Causeway Service Station and G. Dickson of Dickson Bros. Garage, in a letter to the city today.

The by-law is being revised to make it compulsory for an operator either to close at 6 in the evening or remain open continuously covering Sundays and holidays.

"This will result in a serious loss to our particular firms," Rawlings and Dickson wrote, "as to our locations the premises which we now occupy are in continued demand by a considerable number of motorists, particularly tourists and visitors, with cars, who require storage facilities until departure of the night boat for Vancouver."

It also applied with regard to passengers on T.C.A. they added.

Uncle Ray

Many a farmer, while mowing hay, has started "jumping mice" into action. The little animals leap for their lives, and what leaps they make!

The body of a full-grown jumping mouse is two, or two and a half inches long. The tail has a length from five to six inches! One of these mice can jump at least six feet, and leaps of from eight to 10 feet has been reported. If we take the figure of six feet, we find that they can sail through the air at least eight or nine times their own length.

If we forget the tail, the distance they travel is even more amazing. They can jump at least 28 times the length of their bodies!

To "forget the tail" is a rather hard thing to do, however. The tail is needed for jumping. A mowing machine sometimes cuts off part of the tail and, when that happens, the mouse finds things different. When it makes a jump, it turns head over heels, making at least one somersault and sometimes two or three. This is proof that the tail helps to balance the mouse while it is leaping.

Jumping mice are widespread over the United States and Canada. They are found even in Alaska, and in parts of Mexico. The common field mouse may make little jumps, but nothing to compare with those of jumping mice. The hind legs of a jumping mouse are extremely long compared to the front legs.

Jumping mice feed on plants. They are fond of seeds, and do some damage to grain.

In winter jumping mice go into underground homes and make themselves comfortable. They often use a hole in the ground which is as much as two feet

FINGERPRINTS DON'T LIE

THE STORY: After Azalea Palmer found her father with his skull crushed by use of a desk telephone in his library, police learn of a quarrel between the victim and Azalea's fiancé, the sculptor Paul Moody. Azalea's father, the wealthy Wendell Palmer, tried to break up his daughter's romance with the artist, and he also had vetoed a commission that would win Moody fame for a statue group on a new building. Police, detective James Stivers, has found fingerprints on the telephone, and he has set out in company with Pete Kelso, another police detective, to search Paul's studio for further prints.

VIII

Detectives James Stivers and Pete Kelso reached Paul Moody's studio as fast as the police car could whisk them through crowded streets where all traffic stopped dead or pulled to the curb as the walls of the oncoming siren pierced the air.

The studio was part of an old warehouse with one room large enough and high enough of ceiling to house the big and little sculptures. Paul Moody had turned out, or was working on, or dreaming of.

Alongside and above were his modestly-furnished living quarters. The reception room was merely a corner of the workshop with a big rug, a divan, chairs, the necessary small bar, and a few other comforts for his visitors, clients, or models.

As the invaders from the police department expected, Paul was not at home and there was some difficulty in finding the arthritic old caretaker. He made still more difficulty about admitting strangers, even though Pete Kelso flashed his badge.

The suggestion that Paul Moody was wanted for a murder sent the old man into a fit of cackling laughter at the idocy of the police and Kelso's particular nonsense in imagining that Mr. Moody could possibly have killed anybody.

The caretaker was too ancient and too feeble to be handled roughly even by Kelso, who was afraid the old man might fall apart if shaken vigorously. It was Stivers who finally ended the trouble when he said:

"If you're so sure your boss is innocent you ought to be glad to have it proved by scientific methods. I promise you we won't break a thing, shift a thing, or steal a thing."

At last the old man admitted them. He showed a disposition to stand guard over the treasure, but he had other tasks and reluctantly left, shaking a tremendous fist at Kelso and cackling:

"If you muss anything up, I'll deep, with grass at the bottom of it. Other jumping mice make nests in tree hollows, or in nests which birds have given up. They roll up in little balls and go to sleep during extremely cold weather.

Any healthy, full-grown rabbit or hare can make a good jump or bound, but the best jumpers are found in Africa. They are called "jumping hares," and are found in southern and eastern Africa.

Jumping hares have strong hind legs. They can make jumps of at least 20 feet.

pull your head off and throw it in your face."

Even to men whose business it was to visit gruesome scenes or the haunts of gruesome people, there was something uncanny, occult in the great studio.

Though empty of all life, but their own, it was peopled, almost forested, by finished and unfinished images of men, women, children, in marble, bronze or gilded clay. And somehow they seemed more alive than living people.

A great horse was only half released from the mass of modeling clay that held his hindquarters in a huge unfinished block. A panther seemed to be straining in ferocious agony to writhing out of the imprisonment of incompleteness. Every emotion seemed to be alert here, laughter, sorrow, love, hate, yearning.

Among the humans there were the heads of old, old men and women, and of children so pretty and so gay that one felt they could not really be good art. They were too human for that.

The big model of a group for the National Electric Building had a funeral meaning since it would never be finished and it had already led its creator into the toils of justice.

Stivers recognized the meditation of Azalea Palmer by its beauty and its aliveness. A pang woke in his heart for her. He had held her hands in his and had looked into her pitifully pathetic and bewildered eyes.

But Kelso was drawn more to the figures of nude or half-draped women. In that field, he gleefully boasted to Stivers, he was a "connoisseur." As he pronounced the word it sounded more like "corner sewer," and Stivers grunted that he was probably right.

Stivers knew that Kelso had been attached to the vice squad, and he wondered how much longer its sickening corruptions could be concealed from the public.

RUMORS CURRENT

Stivers had heard the name of one particularly zealous "fallen woman," Nelda Croft, linked with that of Pete Kelso. She was a great one for compromising rich men and making them poorer, and there had been whispers that Kelso had engineered some of her shake-downs.

The thought flashed into Stivers' mind: Maybe Kelso is sure because Paul Moody bumped off old Wendell Palmer before he and Nelda could shake the old man down.

Then he reminded himself that all this was none of his business. His business was to collect the fingerprints of Paul Moody, and he could see that there was no end to them.

There would be the prints of other people, too; guests, models, the caretakers; but on the first unfinished clay statue in front of him he felt sure that there must be the sculptor's prints and no other.

There were balls of damp clay that Paul had kneaded before stuffing them into their places in the armatures. There were soft spots where one palm had rested while the other hand was busy with its magic.

No Caterpillars To Swarm Over Fruit Trees, 1950

They Have Folded Their Tents And Passed Is Good News From Agricultural Department

Good news came today from the provincial agriculture department for the fruit-tree owner and anyone else who doesn't like crawling things.

Caterpillars have folded their tents and quietly stolen away. That's what the government entomologists say. "We don't anticipate any trouble this year from tent caterpillars," was their word of cheer.

The tent caterpillar appears in cycles every seven to 10 years or so, and the last major mass appearance was in 1946-47. In 1948 they reared their ugly heads to a worrisome degree in some areas up-island particularly, but last year they started on the decline.

There is another pest to contend with this year, though — the holly leaf miner — which the entomologist warns is having a heyday because of the severe weather last winter.

The cold temperatures killed off a parasite that was first introduced in 1938 and the holly tree miner has smooth chewing ahead unless the DDT gun is pointed in his direction immediately.

The miner is a small maggot which tunnels or mines in the leaf of the holly tree. They mature in April, spin a cocoon, and the adult appears in the form of a fly about half the size of a house fly.

The fly is showing now while the trees are in blossom, and they will lay eggs in the holly leaf to start the vicious circle over again.

Spray will stop their destructiveness, and the entomologists suggest DDT 50 per cent wettable powder, one and a half pounds to 100 gallons of water with three-quarters of a pint of nicotine sulphate to the 100 gallons.

For the home gardener with a few holly trees the spray should be mixed: two tablespoons of DDT wettable powder and one and a half teaspoons of nicotine sulphate to one gallon of water. The whole tree should be sprayed.

The parasite which tree owners are mourning now, was a wasp-like insect which laid eggs in the maggot of the miner, destroying them.

With supplies of natural gases negligible, gas supply in Great Britain is based on the carbonization of coal and to a small extent on gas oil.

TASTY FOOD HELPS END HIS CONSTIPATION

"For years I suffered the misery of constipation. Remedies? I tried so many! It took a simple daily dish of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN to end my constipation! Many thanks!" Mr. T. Patterson, 55 Bay St., S. Hamilton, Ont. One of many unsolicited letters. You, too, may find lasting relief from constipation due to lack of dietary bulk. Just eat a serving of crispy KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water. If not completely satisfied with results after 10 days, send the empty box to Kellogg's, London, Ont.
